AUSTRIA AND RUSSIA MOBILIZING ARMIES

Greater War Than That Between Balkan Belligerents Threaten Europe; Great Powers Trying to Prevent Clash

LONDON, Nov. 26. The danger of a greater war than t between the Balkan states and Turkey absorbs public in- est far more than the first bout of diplomacy between the ligerents.

The steps towards mobilization which Austria and Russia taking, although but preliminary precautions, have made sible a vision of the vast consequences, which, as far as at Britain is concerned, are considered nothing less than alling.

England, France and Germany are playing a peacemaking e. Their efforts are directed, apparently toward keeping powers together in a compact to refrain from taking up cemeal the questions which the war raises, and to defer their sideration until the general conference.

withdrawal of the Austrian war- at Constantinople, to join the , is taken as an unfavorable sign, the imminent Servian occupation urazzo, on the Adriatic sea, tends er to bring Austria and Servia rd the breaking point.

Servia Strengthens Forts

LONDON, Nov. 27. Thirty more heavy guns were brought to the fortress at Belgrade on Tuesday and strong forces have been recalled from the seat of war to the Servian capital.

Turkish and Albanian prisoners are employed in strengthening the fortifications.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Public opinion is slow to express itself in Russia, says a St. Petersburg dispatch to the Reuter Telegram company, but indignation has been growing the last few weeks at the alleged lack of virility in upholding Russia's international and military dignity.

"In a country where every family is represented in the army," the dispatch continues, "serious excitement is inevitable. The officers complain that they are treated as supers, while any display of enthusiasm for the Balkan states has been repeatedly repressed.

"Nevertheless the pro-Balkan feeling is developing and societies to carry on the campaign are being formed in St. Petersburg and the provinces.

"The fourth duma will assemble Thursday and the government policy of secrecy undoubtedly will be assailed. Official attempts to manipulate the elections failed, and the constitution of the fourth duma is practically the same as the third but more averse to bureaucratic methods.

"In the meantime the working classes are unsettled. Opinions differ concerning the rank and file of the army."

LONDON, Nov. 27.—A Sofia dispatch to the Daily Mail reports from Adrianople that part of the town near the Mosque of Sultain Selim has been set on fire by Bulgarian shells.

Judge Stops Trial to Acquit Boy Who Is Mother's Support

CARSON, Nev., Nov. 26.—Chesley R. Graves was acquitted of an embezzlement charge, in the midst of his trial in the United States district court here today, for the reason that he is his mother's only support. The judge said the evidence was sufficient to convict Graves of having taken $139 from the postoffice at McGill, Nevada, but that as the defendant's mother was dependent upon him, he would dismiss the case if Graves would repay the money. Graves paid the $139 and was freed.

Graves was arrested in Los Angeles. He said the charge against him was due to a clerical error.

DENVER AND COLORADO COLLEGE WON'T MEET?

Rupture Occurs Following Refusal of University to Have Conference Pass on Freshmen Question

"There will be no further athletic relations with Colorado e until it recedes from its present attitude as to whether ll accept my signature on the eligibility list of Denver rsity football players, or whether they will demand that ference meet and investigate my rsonal word. It appears to me ey are doubting my word to the of calling me a liar"—Dean C. Manly of Denver university, nt of the Rocky Mountain Athletic conference, and Den- versity's representative on that

Tomorrow's Game Canceled.

That the action will not only mean the canceling of the game with the Ministers for tomorrow but will mean the breaking of all athletic relations with Denver is the statement of Dean Manly.

"If Colorado college does not get out of the conference, we will," said the Denver dean.

With the wobbly condition of the conference at the present time owing to the strained relations between the University of Colorado and Denver university, it will take more than

10-YEAR RULE IN EFFECT AT HOME

Long Residence in State Required of Applicants to Stratton Institution

FUTURE PLANS DISCUSSED

Children Over 14 Not Admitted; Parents Must Be in Colorado 5 Years

"The Stratton home is to be an institution that will benefit Colorado, and it will not be able to admit residents of other states. To prevent any imposition, we have established a strict ruling providing that no person will be admitted to the home who has not been a resident of Colorado for 10 years," said H. W. Cowan, superintendent of the Myron Stratton home, yesterday in discussing plans for entrance to the institution, work upon which, the trustees of the home corporation state, will start before the first of the year.

"Mr. Stratton specified in his will that the home should be first for worthy poor residents of El Paso county and then for residents of other counties of the state. If we had any other but the 10-year rule, many would come to Colorado just to be admitted to the home, and it is to keep out this class that we have made this strict provision," Mr. Cowan added.

The trustees of the Myron Stratton Home corporation will decide upon the eligibility of all applicants to the institution. Although the opening of the first few buildings of the home is some months distant, a few applications by aged people of the county have been received by the trustees and these probably will receive first consideration. No applications for children have been received as yet, according to Superintendent Cowan.

Rules Differ.

The rules providing for the admittance of children to the home are different in several respects. The applicants must be in good bodily health, must be of sound mind and the combined period of residence of the parents must be five years. In other words the mother must be here four years, and the father, one year, or the mother two, and the father three years, etc.

"The first children to be admitted will be from 4 to 10 years of age," said Mr. Cowan. "Later, when we

GOT FRIENDS TO BUY FAKE BONANZA STOCK

Trial of Julian Hawthorne and Confederates Begun in New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The literature signed by Julian Hawthorne exploiting stock of mines in the Cobalt region contained false statements, it was declared today by Assistant District Attorney Thompson, in outlining the case for the government at the trial of Hawthorne, Josiah Quincy, Dr. W. J. Morton and Albert Freeman, charged with fraudulent use of the mails.

Mr. Thompson said that a force of girls was trained to imitate the handwriting of Hawthorne, and that they executed in long hand what purported to be personal letters from Hawthorne to his friends, urging them to invest in Cobalt claims, which the prosecutor described as barren. The girls signed other letters, he said, purporting to have been written to Hawthorne by "a friend named Brooks" who depicted in glowing, but false terms" conditions at Cobalt.

"There is a Brooks but he never wrote to Hawthorne," said Mr. Thompson. "He was in a mine but once in his life. He was a clerk in Freeman's employ."

Signed Hawthorne's Name.

Zuella Platt, manager of the circulating department in Freeman's office, testified that her assistants signed letters with the name of Julian Hawthorne after they had been mimeographed.

William G. Burns, an incorporator of corporations of Boston, who said he was employed by Josiah Quincy in 1908, testified that he got out the preliminary statement of the Temagami Cobalt company and completed its organization, serving as president, secretary and treasurer until he turned the organization over to Quincy.

In August, 1908, Hawthorne and Woodford Brooks had been elected directors, according to minutes read, their election having been made possible by the resignation of two clerks who had been serving as directors. Burns denied that these men were dummies.

"They were business men, paid $25 for each meeting," he testified.

CARNEGIE HAPPY OVER HIS GIFTS

COMPLETES GREAT PLAN FOR PHILANTHROPY

Reserves $25,000,000 in Bonds for Pension Already Outlined

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. Andrew Carnegie in a statement this afternoon announced that all but $25,000,000 of his fortune, which will be disposed of before his death under his will, will be left to the Carnegie corporation of New York which has been made his residuary legatee, and which will carry on his educational and charitable work.

Mr. Carnegie's statement likewise explains his reasons for planning to pension ex-presidents of the United States, as he provided for recently through the Carnegie corporation.

In making his announcement telling how he had gone about putting his "gospel of wealth" into practice, Mr. Carnegie said:

"I resolved to fulfill the requirements of the 'gospel of wealth' by transferring funds, and have done so, except that I have found it desirable to retain, for a while, personal distribution of my United States military telegraph corps pensions and Pennsylvania railroad pensions to Pittsburg division men and their widows, because my old boys would dislike the change and so, no doubt, would others upon my pension list.

Is Happy Now.

"To meet these payments and others under my will $25,000,000 of bonds upon which the New York state tax has been paid have been reserved. But the New York corporation has been made my residuary legatee and all surplus left after meeting the provisions of my will goes to it.

"I am happy in getting all this off my mind. It is a gruesome business, but I find that this earth is rapidly becoming more heavenly, so many good men and women I know are laboring for others. Surely, Luther, Franklin and their followers were right, who held that 'service to man is the highest worship of God.'"

In explaining his pension plan, Mr. Carnegie cited the cases of three former presidents as affording justification for the project, the announcement of which he said was "making the desired impression." His trustees and himself were all hoping, he said "that congress would meet the situation by proper action."

Nation Should Act.

"Not one of us but will rejoice should this be the result," he said. "We were very careful to provide that only in case congress failed to provide pensions to ex-presidents the corporation would stand ready to do so. It is properly the province of the nation to act. We all feel that."

Mr. Carnegie referred to a recently published letter which dealt with the circumstances of Grover Cleveland after his retirement from the presidency.

"I know about Mr. Cleveland," Mr. Carnegie said, in his statement. "He told me of an offer he had to serve as director in an important institution which would give him a salary. Finding that other directors had no salaries, he declined the offer, saying his name was not for sale."

Mr. Carnegie's other references were to Presidents Lincoln and Grant.

MISS ENGLE TO WED

O. G. Kelly of Meridan, Miss., and Miss Nellie B. Engle of Colorado Springs declare they have more to be thankful for during this Thanksgiving season than any other young couple in the world. They are to be married tomorrow night.

Miss Engle, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Engle, South Eighth street, is now able to be about from injuries sustained when she was run over by an electric street sprinkler. One foot was cut off at the ankle. She sued the street railway company, and a jury in the district court gave her a judgment for $8,500. The street railway company recently was granted a writ of supersedeas by the supreme court, on grounds of error in the trial.

COUNTY TAX LEVY SET AT 9.4 MILLS

The county levy was fixed at 9.4 mills on the total valuation of $22,409,152, by the county commissioners yesterday morning. The levy is .2 of a mill less than last year, when it was necessary to make an appropriation to cover the expense of the election.

To pay the judgment, interest and costs of the suit brought by heirs of Frank Flanagan to complete payment for work done on the Ute Pass road in 1872, a levy of .2 of a mill was required this year. The case was carried to the supreme court, which decided in favor of Flanagan.

Items for which appropriations were made and the amounts which will be raised for each, are as follows:

	Mills.
Ordinary current revenue	5	$112,045.76
Roads and bridges	2.8	62,745.63
Maintenance of the poor	.9	20,168.19

NEW PARTY IS ANSWER TO PROBLEM

Senator Beveridge Says It Will Wipe Out All Sectionalism

PREJUDICE STILL EXTISTS

Democrats Will Be Standpats of the Future, Declares Indianan

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 26.—That the Progressive party is the neutral solution of an abnormal geographical division in American politics—that between the north and the south—was the assertion made here tonight by Albert J. Beveridge, former senator from Indiana, in an address at a "dollar dinner" given in Convention hall, under the auspices of the Jackson County Progressive association.

"The potential but latent nation is here, and it cries aloud for expression," he said. "The Progressive party is the answer to the cry."

"Of all the people of the earth," he continued, "only in America does geography settle political action. Only in America are votes cast by physical location. The wrong that this does to every American man and woman, the shackles that it puts on normal thought and national improvement, the drawback it is to the general welfare, is plain to all of us and to the whole world."

Prejudice Still Exists.

"In their hearts all Americans want to get rid of this abnormal condition. Yet, so long as the Democratic and Republican parties live, everybody knows that we cannot get rid of it. It is asking too much of human nature. Southern men and women think just as northern men and women do on all living subjects; they are as sincere progressives or reactionaries as are the men and women of any other section of the land. Yet because of a natural prejudice, springing from bitter memories, these southern men and women cannot and will not become Republicans, even though that party stood for the things they believe in now.

"The potential but latent nation is here, and it cries aloud for expression. The Progressive party is the answer to the cry. Southern men and women who believe in what the Progressive party stands for will gladly work and vote with us when they would not work and vote with the Republican party.

Progressives Will Break Solidarity.

"Even if by this abnormal, sectional solidarity the Democratic party sometimes wins, as for the moment it now has won, yet it will be found that many of those who man the fortress of privilege in congress come from the solid south. They do not speak or vote for the men and women of the south on the questions of the hour, but have their places in the national councils only because of this outgrown sectionalism which the two old parties support and keep alive.

"The Progressive party surely will break this sectional blockade of true Americanism. Southern men and women are even more eager than northern men and women to express themselves politically as they think. They beg the nation to let them do so. They eagerly accept the Progressive party as the channel through which they can do so.

Hate to Give Up Name.

"The time has come when there must be a frankly progressive or liberal party in this country, and a frankly reactionary or conservative party. And the Republican party cannot become either. We Progressives never again will vote the Republican ticket; and even if we did, we are not strong enough to make the Republican party wholly and thoroughly progressive. Many of those who voted the Republican ticket at the last election are progressives. But they knowingly voted against their own convictions because they hated to give up their party name.

"And so very soon the progressives of all parties must come to the Progressive party. They will have nowhere else to go. And the conservatives of all parties very soon must go to the Democratic party, because they will have nowhere else to go."

NEW TRANSMISSION LINE MAY BE RUN TO SPRINGS

DENVER, Nov. 26.—L. P. Hammond, vice president and general manager of the Central Colorado Power company, left today for New York to confer with directors and bondholders concerning plans for a reorganization. It is understood the plans contemplate the raising of between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 to meet interest obligations and carry out improvements. The improvements contemplated are said to include doubling the capacity of the plant at Shoshone and building transmission lines to Colorado Springs, Pueblo and other southern Colorado cities.

TEXTILE STRIKE LEADERS FREED

BIG DEMONSTRATION IS HELD IN SALEM

"From Now on, One Religion, and That of Solidarity," Says Ettor

LAWRENCE, Mass., Nov. 26.—Thousands of persons greeted with red lights and cheers the return to the city tonight of Ettor, Giovannitti and Caruso, who were acquitted at Salem today of charges of murder in connection with the death of Anna Lopizzo during the textile strike here last winter.

Women with babies in their arms joined in the demonstration, as the crowd surged with the three acquitted men through the principal streets to the headquarters of the Industrial Workers of the World.

Cheering was continuous.

From every side street in the tenement district there flocked hundreds of operatives, carrying red lights. The throng in the hall finally made conditions in the building so dangerous that Ettor was forced to ask them all to leave. Then from an open window he addressed the crowd.

Expects to Protect I. W. W.

"We shall see," he said, "that those who belong to the Industrial Workers of the World shall be protected to the full limit of our power, energy and ability. You won your strike to get advanced wages, but you will never get enough until the mills belong to the working classes. You have got to band together in a union to gain more bread."

Ettor was taken away in an automobile, unable to bear the strain.

Later, after the crowd had dispersed, he returned to the hall to meet a few friends and leaders of the Industrial Workers. He planned to stay in the city over night. Giovannitti announced that he would stay with friends in Quincy, while Caruso remained with his family here.

A large crowd met the train bearing the three men but there was no disorder. There was a roar of cheers and a rush for the car of the labor leaders. It was impossible to get the men into an automobile which had been provided, and it was an hour before they could move on foot toward the Industrial Workers' headquarters.

Ettor Addresses Crowd.

Posters had been scattered throughout the mill district during the day notifying the operatives of the demonstration and as the procession moved the crowd kept growing larger.

Ettor was all but exhausted when he appeared at the window of the hall to make his address and his voice was clear.

"Ten months ago," he said, "Giovannitti and I were trapped away from you with the hope that the backbone of the Lawrence strike would be broken and that you would go back to your slavery, misery and looms. On January 30, both of us were placed in a cell and told in so many words that we were there for our great activity in helping you gain your liberty.

"We have had but one worry and that was that the masters would succeed in driving you back to work; that the masters would club or bayonet you back to the mills."

ROOSEVELT ELECTOR HEADS LIST IN CAL.

Wallace Has a Plurality of 128 Votes Over Griffin, Democrat Leader

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—Final figures from all counties of the state announced tonight, including the totals reported by the Los Angeles, Inyo and Modoc boards of canvassers, but not yet checked up by the secretary of state, give Wallace, heading the Roosevelt Republican electoral ticket, a plurality of 128 votes over Griffin, the first Democratic elector. The totals are:

Wallace, 283,532.

Griffin, 283,404.

The Los Angeles totals are those resulting from the first canvass by the supervisors and are as follows:

Wallace, 75,534; Griffin, 65,073. This is a gain of 100 votes for Wallace over the unofficial figures previously given out. A second canvass has been begun, but it is admitted by both Democratic and Republican watchers that the net change in the vote of any electoral candidate will not exceed 60. However, the recent appellate court decision, affecting the vote of two precincts, will, if it stands, deduct about 200 from every Republican elector but Wallace. These are the precincts in which the clerks of election tallied the straight votes for the head of each electoral ticket only.

As the certified returns from Inyo and Modoc counties are not likely to vary to any extent from the known result of the county canvass, it is apparent that only some far-reaching court ruling in the proceedings now pending in several counties can overturn the lead now held by the high Roosevelt elector.

In Los Angeles county the vote for [illegible] on the electoral tickets is as follows:

Lyon, Republican, 75,067; Cooley, Democrat, 54,827.

HOLIDAY WILL BE WIDELY OBSERVED

Thanksgiving General Day of Rest and Feasting in Region Tomorrow

POOR TO BE REMEMBERED

Union Church Services in the Morning; Sports, Opera and Ball Will Follow

With religious worship, with feasting and with typical holiday pastimes, Colorado Springs and the Pikes Peak region tomorrow will observe Thanksgiving. Prayers for the blessings of the year will be offered in unison in churches, and family reunions will hallow the observance in homes, while lonely wanderers will find festival cheer in the hospitality of hotels, clubs and restaurants with elaborate menus.

Business will be practically suspended. The county and city offices, banks and most of the stores will close, while the holiday schedule will be in effect at the postoffice. There will be one delivery of mail in the morning, and the general delivery department will be open until noon. There will be no call on the Mining Exchange.

None is too poor to partake of the overflowing abundance of the festival. One hundred Thanksgiving basket dinners will be distributed by the Associated Charities to needy families. The baskets will be heaped high with turkey or chicken and other good things that make a real Thanksgiving dinner. A turkey will be provided for families of three or more, and a chicken for families of less than three.

Seven wagonloads of food have been contributed by the school children for the Thanksgiving basket dinners. These contributions include vegetables of all kinds, flour, canned goods, jellies and preserves, breakfast foods, bread and butter and various kinds of meats.

People's Mission to Help.

From the numerous contributions of silver that have been jingling in the street corner kettles for the last week, the People's Mission will provide a genuine, old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner for not less than 50 of the destitute homeless.

The Salvation Army also will care for some families, although this organization will devote most of its efforts to remembrance and relief of the poor at Christmas.

One hundred homesick men will be guests at the annual Thanksgiving dinner at the Y. M. C. A. The dinner, to be served at 6:30 o'clock, will include turkey, cranberry sauce and mince pie. There will be a program of music and addresses after the feast.

Two union Thanksgiving services, under direction of the ministerial association, will be held in the morning at 10:30 o'clock. At the First Congregational church, the Rev. J. H. Spencer, pastor of the First Baptist church, will deliver the sermon, assisted by pastors of the churches north of the Pikes Peak avenue line. The Rev. W.

AMICABLE ARRANGEMENT WITH PHONE COMPANY

City officials and representatives of the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph company conferred yesterday and reached an agreement under which emergency slugs will be provided for every "nickel-first" telephone in the city. An ordinance will be passed immediately providing that emergency slugs may be used in hurry calls to the police and fire departments, and that it will be a misdemeanor to use them for any other purpose. The subscriber whose telephone is used will be held responsible for violations.

There are about 550 "nickel-first" telephones in Colorado Springs, and yesterday's conference was brought about by numerous protests from telephone users, who pointed out that emergency calls often are delayed by having to place a nickel in the slot before the operator can be reached.

W. F. Brown of Denver, general manager of the company, met the city half way in its protest, and the slugs will be provided at once, with the understanding that the ordinance referred to be passed.

The question of lower telephone rates also was discussed y[illegible] and Brown said that a re[illegible] will be taken up within the [illegible] weeks. The four-party rate is [illegible] higher here than in Pueblo, due, Brown said, to the difference in operating cost. The expense in Colorado Springs, he said, is heavy because of unusual business during the tourist season and a falling off in the winter, which utilizes only a portion of the company's facilities. A general reduction of rates is assured, however, according to the conference yesterday.

It was brought out during the meeting that Colorado Springs, Colorado City and Manitou have about 5,800 telephones, a ratio of 16 to every 100 of population, while the rate in Denver is about 13.5 to 100, and in the entire county, about 10 to 100.

Popular Vote for President Cast at the Recent Election

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. The popular vote for president in the election of 1912 shows that Wilson polled throughout the country a total of 6,156,748 votes; Roosevelt 3,928,140 and Taft 3,376,422.

The Socialist vote for Debs amounted to 673,783 with the Socialist count still unfinished in seven states.

In 1908, Bryan's popular vote was 6,393,182 and that of Taft 7,637,676. The figures in the following table by states are divided between official and unofficial returns, as indicated. No counties at present available where the spaces are left blank.

NO ACTION TAKEN

The special committee appointed recently by the merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce to investigate the eight-hour law for women did not present its report at the meeting of that body last night, and no action was taken on the matter. The question was discussed at considerable length by the various business men who have women in their employ, and the meeting adjourned to meet in the near future to hear the report of the committee.

The matter of arousing public sentiment in an early Christmas shopping campaign was brought up, but no action was taken.

The finance committee of the board of directors of the Chamber met yesterday afternoon, discussing various matters in its jurisdiction.

10-YEAR RULE

have more buildings, we will be able to take older children, possibly up to 14, but that probably will have to be the age limit for children. It will take four years to give the children an education, and we will not want to keep children who are more than 18 years of age when they will be able-bodied and able to earn a livelihood. With the first buildings, we will not be in a position to care for infants, and as yet no provision has been made for their care, although I am sure that later we will be able to care for them.

"The Stratton home is not to be a sanatorium. Applicants must be in good bodily health, and must be sound mentally. Of course, in the case of the old people, those who are infirm, and weak from senility, ample provisions are to be made for their care. Later, when more buildings are constructed, we will have an infirmary and a hospital, where the old men and women will be cared for. Special care is to be taken of the aged inmates of the home.

Private Schools Later.

"The cottages now planned will accommodate 20 old people, and the children's dormitories will accommodate 20 each, the boys and girls to be in separate buildings. For the present, or until more buildings are constructed, the children will attend the schools in Broadmoor. Ultimately we will have our own schools, where not only the regular elementary education will be given, but also courses that will fit both the boys and girls to go out in the world and earn their own living. Definite plans for this department have not yet been outlined, owing to the fact that experience will teach myself and the trustees much in the operations of the home.

"We are going to try to make it as practical a home as possible. As specified in Mr. Stratton's will, the inmates will not be treated as paupers. As soon as the home is completed and equipped we will act on the applications and get it into smooth running order as soon as possible."

According to William Lloyd, secretary of the Myron Stratton Home corporation, Architect Biscoe, who is drawing the plans, will have the specifications for the first buildings completed in two weeks, and these will be turned over to contractors for bids at once.

The provision in Mr. Stratton's will providing for eligibility to the home is as follows:

Stratton's Idea of Home.

The purpose for which said corporation shall be created, and to which this bequest is devoted, is and shall be the erection, furnishing and maintenance of a free home for poor persons who are without means of support, and who are physically unable, by reason of old age, youth, sickness or other infirmities to earn a livelihood, and who are not, by reason of disease, insanity, gross indecency or immorality, unfit to associate with worthy persons of the condition in life above named. The inmates of said home shall be selected by the board of trustees of said corporation, first from poor persons of the condition above stated, who are actual residents of the county of El Paso, in the state of Colorado; and, second, from any poor persons of the conditions above stated, who are at the time of their selection, actual residents of any other county of the state of Colorado, who shall be admitted thereto in the order of priority of their application, up to the full capacity of said home to accommodate and provide for them without serious inconvenience to persons who shall at the time of their application be inmates of said home.

A suitable sum, not exceeding the sum of $1,000,000, out of this bequest shall be expended in purchasing suitable grounds and a site for said home within the county of El Paso and state of Colorado, and in erecting, furnishing and equipping the necessary buildings for the use of the inmates of said home and for the maintenance of careful supervision over the erection of said buildings and improvements and beautification of said grounds. All the balance and remainder of this bequest shall be kept carefully invested in good and safe interest-bearing securities, and all the proceeds or income derived from such investments shall be expended under the direction of the trustees, directors or managers of said corporation, in accordance with the by-laws of said corporation, for the maintenance and support of said home and to the payment of all expenses of repairing, superintending and conducting the same, including suitable compensation to said trustees, all of which expenditures and disbursements shall be subject to the inspection and approval of the district court of El Paso county, Colorado, or to the inspection and approval of such auditing committee or board of inspection as may be provided for in the by-laws of said "The Myron Stratton Home."

It is my especial desire and command that the inmates of the said home shall not be clothed and fed as paupers are at public expense, but that they shall be decently and comfortably clothed and amply provided with good and wholesome food and with the necessary medicines, medical attendance, care and nursing to protect their health and insure their comfort.

DENVER AND CHEYENNE GET SIX INCHES OF SNOW

DENVER, Nov. 26.—Eastern Colorado and southwestern Wyoming was visited early today by an area of high pressure which yesterday was reported at British Columbia. Eight inches of snow fell up to 6 o'clock tonight at Cheyenne, Wyo., and Denver.

HOLIDAY WILL

W. Ranney, pastor of the First Congregational church, will give the sermon in the First Baptist church, assisted by pastors south of Pikes Peak avenue. The offerings will be devoted to the Visiting Nurse association.

Grace and St. Stephen's Episcopal churches will unite in Thanksgiving services at St. Stephen's church in the morning at 11 o'clock. The Rev. F. H. Touret, rector of Grace Episcopal church, will deliver the sermon.

Policemen's Ball.

The biggest public event of the evening will be the sixth annual ball of the Policemen's Relief association in Temple theater. The floor is smooth as glass, and two thousand electric lights and hundreds of Japanese lanterns will give brilliant illumination in a setting of palms and blooming plants and cut flowers. Festoons of flags and bunting also will add to the decorative effect.

"The Isle of Dreams," under the auspices of the Federated Woman's clubs, will be the attraction at the Grand opera house. A cast of distinctive merit will present the tuneful opera, and many fine specialties will be introduced.

The annual football struggle between the Tigers and Denver university will take place on Washburn field at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Denver rooters are coming in a special train. This will be the last football game of the season in Colorado Springs. The Terrors will play the Monte Vista high school eleven at Monte Vista.

Merchants say that the Thanksgiving shopping this season is the heaviest in years. People are buying generous supplies for the feast, and luxuries are in as great demand as the substantial articles of food.

Turkey, the piece de resistance of the Thanksgiving feast, is plentiful, and ranges from 20 to 25 cents a pound, according to quality. The market is abundantly supplied and the d is heavy. The quality is un fine.

In recent years, and especia tlceable this season, the me say. Thanksgiving is fast beco occasion for remembrances. Thanksgiving gifts are shown the shops, and buyers are eag numerous.

BILL ABOLISHES POWER OF HEALTH BOARD

NVER, Nov. 26.—The aldermanic repealing the license fees on the f meats and milk by retail groups which were signed by Mayor J. Arnold last week, will strip oard of health of its power of ing the ordinances regulating le of these commodities, declare tors of the health department, say that without any fee the s will not dread the inspections board and that the result will sale of inferior qualities of both and milk.

bills removing the fee of $10 for le of meat and $5 for milk were ced before the council several ago at the request of the retail s of the city. They have been g against the fees for five and when the bills were passed ng the ordinance wherein it was ed fees should be charged, there many grocers present to cheer. e being no ordinance providing inspection of meats and milk, alth inspectors claim it will be ible to punish those who sell thful products. Formerly violof the ordinance were punby a repeal of the licenses.

DEMOCRATS HAVE ROCKY ROAD AHEAD ON TARIFF PLAN, SAYS SEN. SMOOT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Senator Reed Smoot of Utah believes the Democrats in congress have a rocky road ahead of them if they attempt to carry out their program for a general downward revision of the tariff during the extra session of congress, as he is of the opinion that there will be a split in the party before the tariff tinkering has progressed very far.

"I am almost certain that the Democrats will not be able to pass the proposed free sugar bill, for instance," he asserted. "There are also features of the suggested steel bill that will be highly objectionable to certain Democratic senators.

"It will be a question of give and take, with the result that any measure passed will not strongly resemble the one now on the program. I also doubt very much whether the Democratic idea will prevail to any great extent on the revision of the cotton schedule.

"Several Democratic senators now recognize that the duties on cotton products are too low already and any further revision downward would mean the destruction of certain industries. They also see similar fatal defects in the Democratic steel bill."

RIO GRANDE TO DOUBLE CAPACITY DENVER SHOPS

DENVER, Nov. 26.—In order to accommodate and repair the added equipment that will be necessary to handle the traffic of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad with the completion of improvements now in progress, the shops of that company at Burnham, in the southwestern part of Denver, will be doubled in capacity.

Plans of General Manager E. L. Brown of the Rio Grande for increasing materially the size of the shops have been approved by the board of directors and the making of the necessary improvements at the plant will begin in December. There are now 900 men employed at the shops, and this number will be increased shortly to about 1,800, it is said.

The pay roll at the Burnham shops is $65,000 per month now, and it is said that this will be practically doubled when the plant is enlarged. The Rio Grande has ordered 30 new locomotives, some of which are being delivered now. Of these six are expressly for the passenger service between this city and Pueblo.

Over 2,000 cars of all kinds have been ordered and these are also being delivered. It is essential that facilities for keeping the new motive power and rolling stock in repair keep pace with the increase in equipment. In order to take care of the additional engines and cars and to make allowance for the growth that is expected to be made within the next few years, larger buildings will be necessary and much additional machinery will be installed.

Several hundred families will be added to Denver's population by the increase in the shops, aside from those necessary to operate the additional trains that will be part of the growing business.

NO THANKSGIVING TURKEY FOR PRES.-ELECT WILSON

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Nov. 26.—Governor Wilson will not eat turkey on Thanksgiving day. There are no turkeys on the islands except cold storage ones.

The health of Governor Wilson showed improvement today, but he decided to remain at home all day to recover from an attack of indigestion which affected him yesterday.

CHINA TO HOLD FIRST PRIMARY ELECTION SOON

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—A special cablegram to the Chicago Daily News from Canton, China, today says:

"The first primary election of the republic of China for members of the house of representatives in Pekin, will take place in Canton, December 1 to December 4. Of the males of voting age in China, estimated to number 30,000,000 only 1,906,516 have qualified."

"No, Thank You, Not in 1916"--Pres. Taft

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—President Taft quietly has informed friends that, no matter how active his participation in a reorganization of the Republican party may be, he is not to be regarded or publicly referred to in political speeches by Republicans as a possible candidate of the party in 1916.

The president probably will make many political speeches before March 4, and after he reenters private life; but, according to close friends, he is in the fight to continue the party as a man who has been its standard bearer for four years, not as a seeker of a renomination.

A meeting of Republican leaders, to be held in New York or Washington some time in January, is now being considered.

The minority of the Republican committeemen who have been in Washington recently favor a general publicity and education campaign to strengthen public support and to take advantage of "any mistakes" the Democratic administration may make.

The president is expected to speak at a Republican dinner in New York some time in January, but it is said there has been an understanding that no speaker at that dinner, whenever it is held, shall refer to the president as the prospective Republican standard bearer of 1916. His indorsement of the dinner idea is said to have been contingent upon such an understanding.

ROBERT KNIGHT, GREATEST COTTON MILL MAN, DEAD

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 26.—Robert Knight, the owner of more cotton mills than any other individual in the world, died at his home in Elmwood today, aged 88.

Mr. Knight was a native of Old Warwick, R. I. When he was eight years old he went to work in a cotton mill and was connected with the industry either as operative, manager, or owner until his death. With his brother, Benjamin B. Knight, he took control of many of the mills operated by A. and W. Sprague which failed for $25,000,000 in 1875. Since his brother's death 15 years ago, Robert Knight had come into control of 22 spinning, weaving and finishing establishments.

STATE COAL LANDS MUST REVERT TO GOVERNMENT

DENVER, Nov. 26.—On allegations that there existed a tacit agreement to work the land jointly the general land office at Washington has ordered that $2,000,000 worth of coal land near Paonia, Colorado, shall revert to the government. This decision reversed the finding of the local land office at Montrose. It is understood that the case which involves about 1,120 acres will be appealed to Secretary of the Interior Fisher. The decision covers about seven years of effort to clear title by William H. Shoecraft, J. A. Beckman, David J. MacWatters, William F. Ryan, George J. Simonton, E. F. Linney and Charles Gugel of the Cripple Creek district, Colorado Springs and Denver.

MAY CONTEST COUNTY PROGRESSIVE TICKETS

DENVER, Nov. 26.—Reports were current in Denver today regarding the possibility of filing more than a score of contests through Colorado involving Progressive candidates. The contests, it is understood, will be based on the contention that straight "Bull Moose" ballots were counted for Progressive candidates when there was no "Bull Moose" county ticket filed.

The mix-up comes through the filing by the state Progressive committee of three tickets for presidential electors: Progressive, Bull Moose, and Roosevelt. This was not done in the counties. It is contended that straight Bull Moose or Roosevelt ballots cannot be counted for Progressive county candidates.

Two contests already under way involve the seats of W. S. Humason, Republican-Progressive representative in Gunnison county, and C. O. Finch, Democratic representative in Morgan county.

LOCATES RUNAWAY WIFE WHEN HE TURNS DETECTIVE

DENVER, Nov. 26.—Informed that his wife and two children, who had disappeared from their home at Deadwood S. D., on October 20, were in hiding in this city, James Demato, an Italian, came to Denver and turned detective. With the aid of Humane Officer Morton David, he located his wife in a rooming house at 1753 Blake street.

Asked where her children, Pietro, aged 6, and Angelina, aged 3, were, Mrs. Demato refused to give her husband any information. She was taken to police headquarters and there admitted that she had placed the little ones in St. Clara's orphanage.

Demato made an attempt to effect a reconciliation, but without success.

"You spit in the children's faces," Mrs. Demato told him. "I am not going to live with you any longer and you shall not have the children."

THREE TAKE EXAMINATIONS

Three applicants for eligibility to appointment as bookkeepers and clerks in the city service yesterday took the civil service examination. They are Carl F. Mechling, James F. Killeen and John H. Meyers. An examination for eligibles to appointment as detectives and firemen will be held today. The city council this morning will appoint a water inspector and a barnman to fill vacancies.

LID ON IN TRINIDAD; BEGIN CLEANUP OF CITY

TRINIDAD, Nov. 26.—The lid was clamped on all forms of public gambling, including coin machines; wine-rooms and all places where drinks are sold to women were ordered closed, restaurants that have private booths were directed to remove screens and curtains, and pool and billiard halls commanded shut up at midnight in the recommendations in a report adopted by the city council here. The report recommends the revoking of one dance hall license and the restaurant license of two saloons in the redlight.

The council puts into effect the most sweeping reform ever attempted since Trinidad became a town. During the discussion on the report in the council heated words passed between Alderman E. B. Sorpis and members of the special committee who reported and as a result the former bolted the session and declared that he had nothing in common with the remainder of the board of aldermen.

WILL TRY FEDERAL CASES AT PUEBLO IN JANUARY

PUEBLO, Nov. 26.—For the purpose of trying cases against Colorado railroads and corporations indicted by the federal grand jury, as reported yesterday, a session of the United States district court will be held in Pueblo shortly after January 1, according to a semiofficial announcement made by Judge Robert E. Lewis, before he left for Denver this morning.

The cases against 28 individuals who were indicted will be tried in Denver, according to Judge Lewis, because of the fact that most of the defendants and witnesses reside in that city.

Most of the witnesses in the railroad and corporation cases, he said, live in Pueblo or in the southern part of the state, and for that reason the trials will be facilitated by holding court here.

A [illegible] map of the new state containing 1,500,000 stars has been ordered in sections by the astronomers of Harvard.

SEEK REDUCTION OF INTERSTATE FREIGHT RATES

DENVER, Nov. 26.—E. W. Maxwell and W. L. Daylor, representing the traffic bureau of the chamber of commerce, will go to Washington to attend the hearing by the interstate commerce commission on December 11, of the petition for a reduction in freight rates between the Missouri river and Colorado common points. The case is brought by the traffic bureau in behalf of [illegible] shippers.

SURELY TAKE "SYRUP OF FIGS" IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED

Sweetens your stomach, clears your head and thoroughly cleanses your liver and 30 feet of bowels of sour bile, foul gases and clogged-up waste.

All those days when you feel miserable, headachy, bilious and dull are due to torpid liver and sluggish bowels. The days when your stomach is sour and full of gas, when your nerves twitch and you are restless and can't sleep, could be avoided with a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs. Isn't it foolish to be distressed when there is such a pleasant way to overcome it.

Give your inactive liver and ten yards of waste clogged bowels a thorough cleaning this time. Put an end to constipation.

Take a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs tonight, sure, and just see for yourself by morning how gently but thoroughly all the sour bile, undigested fermenting food and clogged up waste matter is moved on and out of your system—no nausea—no griping, no weakness.

You simply can't have your liver inactive and your thirty feet of bowels constipated with sour decaying waste matter and feel well. The need of a laxative is a natural need, but with delicious Syrup of Figs you are not drugging yourself. Being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it can not injure.

Ask your druggist for the full name "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna." Refuse, with scorn, any of the so-called Fig Syrup imitations. They are meant to deceive you. Look on the label. The genuine old reliable bears the name California Fig Syrup Company.

UNION OFFICIALS URGED VIOLENCE

DEMAND CONTRACTORS UNIONIZE JOBS

Trainmen Testify Concerning Transportation Explosives on Trains

INDIANAPOLIS Nov 26—As tending to show the implication of labor union officials in plots the government introduced at the dynamite conspiracy trial today testimony that explosions on nonunion iron works followed the refusal of contractors to unionize their jobs after personal visits by some of the defendants.

Before two charges of dynamite exploded on a bridge in St Louis August 9 1908 John T Garrett president of a construction firm testified he was visited by John H Barry of the local iron workers union.

"Barry wanted me to unionize the job," Garrett said.

"You'll find it a great deal cheaper, for you know what will happen," he said. I told him I suspected he was going to dynamite the job, and he had better be careful. It was blown up later."

Told to Unionize Job

Questioned by Chester Krum counsel for Barry, Garrett said the union official referring to dynamiting, declared he did not do that kind of business.

Wallace Marshall told of putting up a job at French Lick Ind after he had been visited by Fred Sherman, union business agent.

"Sherman told me I had better unionize the job," Marshall said, "but I lost my temper and told him I would have nothing to do with the murderous dynamiting iron workers." An explosion occurred in March 1911.

F J McCain said his firm suffered three explosions on jobs at Buffalo, N Y in 1910, and one in Erie Pa in 1911 after he had been visited by John T Butler vice president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers.

"Butler told us we would be sorry when we refused to deal with the union," McCain said.

Trainmen Are Called.

Relative to the government's charges that the 45 defendants aided in the illegal transportation of explosives many trainmen testified about trains on which Ortie E McManigal and the McNamaras traveled. One porter told of luggage carried by James B McNamara when the latter went from Chicago to Oakland Cal in July, 1910. It was on that trip that McNamara after visiting Seattle and San Francisco blew up the Los Angeles Times building.

J B Robinson a porter told of carrying McManigal's luggage on the train to Los Angeles in December, 1910.

"Did you know what was in his luggage?" District Attorney Miller asked.

"No sir I did not then but I do now," answered Robinson.

Wake Up! You Lazy Stomach!

Make Your Stomach Cheerfully Do Its Work—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Digest Your Food and Assist Your Stomach

People who complain they are worn to a frazzle are nearly always dyspeptic and are recommended to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. The stomach gets lazy, food ferments and sours, gas belches up, there are symptoms of bloating, the blood becomes thick and sluggish, the liver is blamed the head is heavy, the mind a blank and the dining room a chamber of horrors.

One of the greatest evils of our modern life is the quick lunch. To this evil, as much or more, than any other, may be traced the preponderance of the stomach troubles of our times. Instead of taking time to thoroughly masticate the food before swallowing it the average person rushes through the meal, bolting the food deglutition taking place while it is only partially mixed with saliva, and only half masticated, thus leaving the stomach to do the work the teeth should have done.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain digestive elements a single grain being capable of digesting 3,000 grains of food, including meats, eggs, grain, vegetables, starches and mineral matters. They prepare every particle of food by thorough digestion for ready absorption and assimilation by the lacteal glands, which pass it into the blood, whence it is conducted to all parts of the system rebuilding and revitalizing it.

Every druggist has Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in stock and sells them at 50 cents a box. Adv.

GUNMEN SENTENCED TO DIE WEEK JAN. 6

Join Becker in Death House at Sing Sing to Await Their Fate

NEW YORK, Nov 26 Gyp the Blood, Whitey Lewis, Lefty Louie and Dago Frank, the gunmen convicted of the murder of Herman Rosenthal were sentenced by Justice Goff to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing, during the week of January 6.

Each of the prisoners was sentenced separately and in each case Attorney Wahle, their counsel, moved that the verdict be set aside and the judgment be arrested. Each motion Justice Goff successively denied.

One of the grounds for Mr Wahle's motion was that the verdict was the result of passion prejudice and other influences.

None of the condemned men gave any visible sign of his feelings. All looked stolidly ahead and each shook the hand of Mr Wahle as he was led away. Accompanied by Sheriff Harburger and 12 deputies the four were forced through a big silent crowd outside the criminal courts building thrust into the prison van and taken to the Grand Central station to take a train for Sing Sing where, with Charles Becker former police lieutenant and condemned as instigator of the crime, they will await execution.

OSSINING N Y Nov 26—The four gunmen reached here this afternoon and were lodged in the death house at Sing Sing in cells adjoining that of former Police Lieutenant Becker.

The wives of Lefty Louie and Gyp the Blood and Whitey Lewis sister were permitted to walk with the men from the train to the prison. Sheriff Harburger and a heavy squad of deputies escorted the gunmen and hundreds of Ossining people joined the procession.

The four men filled the last vacant cells in the death house where there are now 17 men awaiting electrocution. They are not on the same tier with Becker but can talk to him if they wish as words spoken in an ordinary conversational tone can be heard throughout the death house by all the inmates.

Over-Night Relief For Constipation

A Small Dose on Retiring and You Are Well and Happy by Morning.

MRS J W ANDERSON.

It is only natural that the simplest of ailments should be the most general, and so we have a whole nation suffering from constipation and indigestion for they are closely allied. But common as constipation is many people do not seem to know they have it. They will complain of headache drowsiness or biliousness, all unconscious of the cause of the trouble.

You should have a full and free movement at least once a day. If you pass a day you are constipated, and the result will be that you will catch a cold easily or have a more serious ailment. To cure the constipation and forestall still graver trouble take a dose of Dr Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at night before retiring and by morning relief will come without disturbance from sleep or any inconvenience.

Legions of people use it regularly in such emergencies, some of them formerly chronic invalids who have suffered from constipation all their lives. Mrs J W Anderson Osawatomie, Kan, and Mr R Silver Zenith Wash, and many others will tell you that they have tried most things recommended for this purpose but have found Syrup Pepsin the only one always reliable. A bottle can be obtained at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar the latter size being bought by families already familiar with its merits.

Syrup Pepsin is mild, pleasant-tasting and non-griping. Mothers give it to tiny infants and yet it is effective in grownups. It is for everyone who suffers from any form of stomach, liver or bowel trouble, constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness etc. Its action will so delight you that you will forever avoid harsh cathartics, purgatives, pills and salts.

If no member of your family ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist send your address—a postal will do—to Dr W B Caldwell, 405 Washington St, Monticello Ill, and a free sample bottle will be mailed you. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

BUYERS BEWARE IS MAXIM OF MINERS

Greater Protection of Life Is Urged at Convention in Spokane

SPOKANE Wash Nov 26—Declaring that the loss of life in metal mines through accidents was greater than the loss in coal mines the report of the committee on the bureau of mines, presented today to the American Mining congress urged additional research by the federal bureau for the protection of life in the metal mines.

The proposal of Lieutenant Governor W R Allen of Montana to urge the passage of state laws requiring that all information regarding mining promotions be reported to a state commission ... conditions for the protection of investors was opposed vigorously this afternoon.

Opponents of the measure under the leadership of Congressman-elect J D Decker of Missouri declared that such a law was dangerous in the extreme unless each state were prepared to put the seal of indorsement on private enterprises. Mr Decker said such a plan would open a wider field for fraud than it would close and that it might make impossible the development of worthy properties.

The legal maxim "let the buyer beware" was vigorously invoked by opponents of the Allen proposal including R F Collins of Spokane and D F Millard of Alaska, declaring that if investors took the same precautions and made the same investigations in buying stock as they did in other investments widespread fraud in mining promotions would be impossible. Another fight is expected when this question is presented in the report of the resolutions committee.

TRIAL OF MRS. LESH FOR MURDER BEGINS

Brother-in-Law of Dead Woman Gives Testimony Beneficial to Defendant

SEDALIA Mo Nov 26—After three witnesses had testified in the trial of Mrs Pansy Ellen Lesh, charged with the murder of Mrs Elizabeth M Quaintance at Green Ridge Mo in 1904 Sheriff Henderson was put on the stand late today to testify that Mrs Lesh had repeated to him details of the confession in which she told the police of Los Angeles that she had administered poison to Mrs Quaintance.

The defense objected and after partial argument court adjourned until tomorrow.

F L Quaintance a brother in law of the dead woman and Doctors Clybaugh and Ferguson all testified that on the night before Mrs Quaintance died she had suffered from a stomach illness accompanied by vomiting spells but she had showed no positive symptoms of poisoning. It was brought out that the woman had been afflicted for years with strangulated hernia and the physicians said symptoms produced by her affliction were similar to those that might be produced by the poison Mrs Lesh is said to have administered.

The physicians said they were surprised that Mrs Quaintance's death occurred when it did but did not suspect foul play.

GIBSON JURY DISAGREES; NINE FOR ACQUITTAL, AND THREE FOR CONVICTION

GOSHEN N Y Nov 26—Burton W Gibson the New York lawyer concerning whose guilt or innocence of the charge of murdering his client Mrs Rosa Menschik Szabo the jury was unable to find a verdict today apparently was stunned tonight by the disagreement of the jury. The vote on the final ballot stood nine for acquittal and three for conviction.

Jacob I Singer of Gibson's counsel, announced shortly after the jury had been discharged that the district attorney had offered not to place Gibson on trial again on the charge of murdering Mrs Szabo provided Gibson would plead guilty to one of several charges against him in New York county.

A detective armed with a warrant based on an indictment found yesterday in New York was prepared to arrest Gibson today in the event of his acquittal on the murder charge. The warrant charges the larceny of $17,000 from Hugh Traynor, a former client of Gibson's in 1910. Other charges are pending in New York county against Gibson, some of them against his administration of the Szabo estate.

Isador Wasservogel assistant district attorney of New York county who has been assisting the Orange county authorities at the trial, declared no offer of any sort has been made to Gibson on behalf of the state.

NO SUCH THING AS 'PREMATURE BLAST' SAYS TUNNEL WORKER

NEW YORK Nov 26—Clash of opinions as to the best plan for compensation of injured workers continued at the second day's session of the National Civic Federation conference on the subject today.

Hazards of the tunnel builders was so graphically described by Thomas J Curtis, president of the Tunnel Workers union that the conference extended the allotted time for hearing him.

"We don't want compensation, we want prevention," he said. "The coroner's jury invariably says 'Premature blast.' There is no such thing. It's always somebody's carelessness."

He charged that much of the fault lay with men who examined applicants for licenses to handle explosives.

Don't Know Dynamite.

"They don't know a stick of dynamite when they see it," he declared. "I saw a man on Fifth avenue smoking a pipe with a load of caps in his breast pocket an hour after he got his license. That showed how much he knew about explosives. Yet he was able to satisfy the examiners."

When the statement was made by a delegate that elevator accidents ought to be guarded against more carefully, delegate Timothy Healy cried out.

"There are men in this city who have no more regard for the life of an employe than for the life of a dog. It is too bad, but my experience of 20 years with my union, the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen, leads me to that belief."

Healy is president of the firemen's union.

"I would say to the representatives of the bar association," continued he, "that it is about time they cleaned out the ambulance chasers."

EDUCATION IS HABIT-FORMING PROCESS

DENVER Nov 26—The second day's session of the annual convention of the Colorado Teachers association ended tonight with an address by President John Hibben of Princeton university.

Dr Hibben addressed a large assembly, the meeting being open to the public. "Education is essentially a habit-forming process," he said.

"We live in an age which puts upon us an increasing demand for profound and far reaching thought. The first wealth of our natural resources has been consumed. Scientific methods of making production meet the demand are becoming necessary every day."

Dr R W Corwin of Pueblo lectured to the teachers on the physical welfare of the child from the standpoint of eugenics, declaring that eugenics is the science of being well born.

PRES. TAFT OBSERVE HOME THANKSGIVING

WASHINGTON Nov 26—President Taft's Thanksgiving will be spent quietly in Washington with only a huge turkey, an enormous mince pie, a wedding and two church services to break its monotony. The turkey from the farm of Horace Vose near Westerly R I is expected in the White house kitchens tomorrow. It is reported to be a bird of regal size fed on the finest and fit for a president's table. The big mince pie is coming from Miss Delia Torrey of Milbury Mass the president's favorite aunt whose skill in the construction of apple pies is famous throughout the country.

The big feature of Thanksgiving day in Washington is the Panamerican service in St Patrick's church an affair which annually draws scores of high government officials diplomats from the countries of the world and many of the capital's leaders of society. This year the president and most of the members of his cabinet, many senators and congressmen who are in town and scores of officials will attend the services held just before noon.

EQUAL STANDARD MORALS FAVORED BY SUFFRAGISTS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov 26—What is declared by officers and delegates to be one of the most successful conventions ever held by the National American Woman's Suffrage association came to an end here today after the adoption of resolutions on several important subjects.

The resolutions demand an equal standard of morality for man and woman, commend the government for its efforts to end commercialized vice and favor arbitration among nations to the end that wars might be prevented.

There was only one session of the convention today which was held principally to revise the constitution. A change was made in the manner of voting so that delegates might cast their ballots individually, instead of by states.

The place for the next convention will be selected by the executive board, which will meet in New York tomorrow.

HODGES IS TO RECEIVE CERTIFICATE OF ELECTION

TOPEKA, Kas, Nov 26—That George H Hodges, Democratic candidate for governor, will receive the certificate of election practically was assured today. Attorneys representing him and Arthur Capper, Republican candidate, reached an agreement temporarily to abide by returns now received and amended returns to be received from three counties which give Hodges a majority of 29 votes.

GERM LADEN DUST CAUSES CATARRH

Ely's Cream Balm Kills the Deadly Catarrh Germs

Catarrh which is bad enough in itself, often results in loss of taste smell and hearing, and leads to serious throat and lung troubles if not promptly checked. The seat of catarrh is usually in the back of the nose and its natural course is downward into the throat and thence to the lungs.

Don't take any chances. If you have any symptoms of catarrh—stuffed up feeling in the head nasty discharge from the nose, sore throat or dry hacking cough, get a fifty cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist, and begin the treatment at once.

This remedy is not a "burning out" or "drying up" process. It is simply a cleansing, healing antiseptic Balm taken through the nostrils back into the head and throat where it instantly reaches the seat of the trouble. That's the only way to effectually and permanently cure catarrh.

Catarrh makes you offensive to yourself and friends. Start using Ely's Cream Balm today and in a short time you will be permanently cured of this nasty, disgusting disease. Agents the Robinson Drug Co. Adv.

CREATS SCENE IN COURT WHEN ACCUSED MURDER

DENVER Nov 26—Marion C Gilbert, who is suing the American Yeomen for insurance on the life of her husband, William J. Gilbert, today became hysterical under the accusations of E P Costigan, attorney for the Yeomen burst out laughing and crying and rushed excitedly from the court room. The court was thrown into confusion temporarily.

Attorney Costigan charged Mrs Gilbert with responsibility for her husband's death notwithstanding she has been acquitted on the criminal charge in Pueblo. Mrs Gilbert returned half an hour later and the trial was resumed. Gilbert who was a Denver & Rio Grande conductor died at his Pueblo home two years ago from the effects of poison.

Throughout the trial this morning Mrs Gilbert listened intently to the testimony concerning relations with her husband that had not been brought out at the Pueblo trial.

BED MAKING AS A FINE ART IN H. S.

Can the girls of Colorado Springs make beds as their precise and exacting New England grandmothers used to?

To determine whether the girls of Colorado Springs High school can make beds properly and to educate them in this branch of the household economic department of the school recently established the school board has installed a bed in the domestic science section which the girls will be taught how to make up in the most approved manner. Each girl will be instructed how to make sleeping quarters as sanitary and as attractive as possible and before she leaves the school she will be past mistress in this one department at least.

You cannot refer to cooking, sewing, washing or any of the arts of the home by their old-fashioned names, if you want to be perfectly proper within the jurisdiction of the High school. These are all included under the term, 'household economics,' and if you are a good cook you are not a cook but a 'household economist' and the same through the various other lines of work.

The high price of living is to be cut if the girls know what they are about, according to the department heads. Everything about a home from putting up a stove and washing dishes to the finer arts of making an evening gown, will be taught.

The equipment for the department, including two sewing machines, cooking apparatus and laundry appliances will be complete after the Thanksgiving holidays, when the girls will start in the department in earnest. They already are at work, making caps and aprons.

The manual training department for the boys is being completed this week, most of the equipment being on hand. It is said that when the material is installed Colorado Springs will have one of the finest manual training departments in the state.

ASKED TO HOLD COHAN

"Hold Cohan and we will give you all the assistance possible in the investigation."

This was the message last night from Rowland K. Goddard, operative in charge of the Denver district of the federal secret service, to Detective Railsback, who instituted and is directing the investigation against John J. Cohan, locked in the county jail, charged with threats against the life of President-elect Woodrow Wilson.

A cousin of Cohan, living in Philadelphia, in a communication to Mr. Goddard, states that Cohan is insane, but that he does not consider him dangerous. The authorities, however, hold a different opinion.

UNION SERVICES TOMORROW

FREE BOOKLETS CONTAIN DATA ON POSTAL LAWS

Booklets issued by the post office department giving in detail information about the use of the mails have been received at the local office and copies may be obtained upon request. The book takes up in full many matters with which the general public is not acquainted and Postmaster Alex Strachan urges that patrons of the local office obtain the pamphlets and familiarize themselves with the postal laws.

Among the subjects of general interest covered in the book are regulations for the delivery of mail to minors which is subject to the order of the parent or guardian. Neither husband nor wife can control the delivery of mail addressed to the other against wishes of the party to whom the mail is addressed.

Uncle Sam is pretty particular about how he will print stamped envelopes in that no advertising connected with the purchaser's name will be printed by the government.

POSTAL SAVINGS MAY BE EXCHANGED FOR BONDS

Applications for postal savings bonds in exchange for deposits must be made at the local office before December 2. The deposits bear two per cent interest while the bonds bear 2½ per cent, and many of the holders of deposit slips exchange for the government paper on the date provided by law, December 2 and June 2. No one stockholder can take out more than $500 in bonds at one time, that being the limit for the postal savings deposits.

MRS. HOLMGREN GIVEN CUSTODY OF CHILDREN

When a woman goes through the valley of the shadow to bring a life into the world she is inspired by that eternal love that passeth understanding—the most sacred thing in the world. I shall not rob this mother of her children, nor shall I cast upon her any reflection that may blight the lives of her babes.

With this tribute to motherhood, District Judge Sheafor yesterday gave Mrs. Anna Holmgren custody of her children, Helen, aged 6 and Thelma 4. Their uncle, Henry Olsen of Lindsborg, Kan., to whom the father, shortly before his death a month ago took the children while the mother was in a local hospital, burst into tears when the law took the children from him.

Clasping a doll in her arms little Thelma ran to her uncle for a farewell kiss, and crying as though her heart would break ran to her mother and then cuddled contentedly in her arms. Little Helen also gave way to her grief in the parting. The children love their uncle, who has been good to them and they are too little to understand the nature of the controversy of which they are the innocent cause. But they love their mother best of all and toddled happily by her side out of the court room.

The scene was one of the most dramatic and pathetic ever witnessed in the district court room. Not less than one hundred persons saw enacted before them the tender and touching appeals of human life, in the parting and the reunion.

The Holmgrens were divorced in the county court. While his wife was seriously ill in a local hospital, the husband, Richard Holmgren, several months ago, took the children to the home of his brother-in-law, Henry Olsen, and asked him to care for them.

Mr. Holmgren died about a month ago. The widow then having regained her health asked for her children, but Olsen refused to part with them. She then instituted habeas corpus proceedings.

Olsen's attorney tried to show that Mrs. Holmgren was not a proper person to rear her children. It was to testimony from such source that Judge Sheafor referred in his address giving the mother custody of her children.

SPECIAL NOTE

We wish to announce that the Colorado college and Denver university football teams will occupy four boxes at The Burns Thanksgiving night, November 28, as the guests of Dr. A. A. Blackman. The theater will be tastefully decorated with college colors.

SCHOOL TEACHER WEDS AT DENVER CONVENTION

Miss Una Dakens, daughter of Mrs. Julia H. Dakens, 312 South Weber street, was married to R. C. Worswick of Roswell, N. M., in Denver last evening. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. B. Wilcox, pastor of the Trinity Methodist church, at his home. Mr. and Mrs. Worswick will return to Colorado Springs tomorrow, and will later make their home in Roswell, N. M.

Miss Dakens was a student at the Colorado Springs High school and has attended the Colorado Teachers school at Greeley, Colorado college and the Kansas State Agricultural college at Manhattan, Kan., where she took special work in domestic science. She has been teacher of domestic science at the Cheyenne school this year. Worswick is a real estate dealer of Roswell, N. M. He and Miss Dakens were schoolmates at the Kansas State Agricultural college, and have been friends for the last six years. For the last four years he has visited Colorado Springs each Christmas in order to see Miss Dakens.

With Miss Dakens at the wedding were Miss Klicknick, a teacher in high school subjects at the Cheyenne school, Miss Lenita Moler, a teacher at the Bristol school and Miss Mildred Smith, a former classmate of Miss Dakens at the State Teachers school, who is now teaching north of Denver.

A thin paste of fuller's earth and water allowed to remain a couple of days before removal will remove grease spots from floor matting.

CERTAINLY ENDS STOMACH MISERY

"Pape's Diapepsin" Cures Heartburn, Gas, Sourness and Indigestion in Five Minutes

Sour gassy upset stomach, indigestion, heartburn, dyspepsia; when the food you eat ferments into gases and stubborn lumps; your head aches and you feel sick and miserable, that's when you realize the magic in Pape's Diapepsin. It makes such misery vanish in five minutes.

If your stomach is in a continuous revolt—if you can't get it regulated, please for your sake try Diapepsin. It's so needless to have a bad stomach—make your next meal a favorite food meal, then take a little Diapepsin. There will not be any distress—eat without fear. It's because Pape's Diapepsin really does regulate weak out-of-order stomachs that gives it its millions of sales annually.

Get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. It is the quickest, surest stomach relief and cure known. It acts almost like magic—it is a scientific, harmless and pleasant preparation which truly belongs in every home. Adv.

Fainted in Stranger's Arms on Summit Pikes Peak; Marriage Results

Pikes Peak was the setting for the opening scene of a romance that reached its climax a few days ago when Valde E. Hecht of Denver and Miss Dorothy Chamberlin of Wheatridge, Colo., were married in Boulder.

One day last summer Hecht stood on the summit of the Peak with a group of strangers, when one of them, Miss Chamberlain, fainted from the effects of the altitude. Hecht caught the unconscious girl in his arms and administered to her wants. The couple exchanged names and addresses and the friendship ripened into love.

Hecht is known as the mushroom king of Denver being the pioneer of the industry in Colorado and owning the largest mushroom farm in the state.

EL PASO ADVANCES

Figured on the former par value El Paso stock sold at $1.21 on the local exchange yesterday, and at $1.25 in New York. The top price was $6.07 a share here and $6.25 in New York. The stock gained 22 cents over Monday's quotations. The purchase last week of James F. Burns' El Paso holdings by Allen L. Burris and associates gives them control of four-fifths of the company's stock and paves the way for the completion of projects that have been under way for the last few [illegible]

MISS BLEARGREN TO BE RETURNED TO MINNESOTA

Miss [illegible] with emotional insanity [illegible] patient [illegible] asylum at [illegible] Minn. This was established [illegible] by Dr. L. E. McKinnie in his study of the young woman at the county jail, who last Sunday was found by travelers on the Crystal park trail several miles above Manitou hovering over the brink of a precipice.

In reply to a telegram the girl's father, who is said to be a prominent physician in Minneapolis, stated that the mother could look after her. The mother brought the girl here recently in hope that she might be benefited by a change of climate and scene.

The father has not yet indicated plans for the future of the girl's home. Dr. McKinnie said last night that if the father does not send for her, that it will be necessary to notify the authorities of the Minnesota asylum to take her back there. The girl will be returned either to the asylum or to her home as she must be kept under constant restraint because of her affliction and the expense involved, Dr. McKinnie states, should not be placed upon a community in which she is not a resident.

DENVER AND COLORADO COLLEGE READY TO BREAK

ATTEMPT OF MINISTERS TO PLAY FRESHMEN HERE BRINGS PROTEST

Dean Manly Refuses to Call Conference Meeting to Decide Point Which Violates Rule

[illegible]monacy to keep the board from [illegible]g dissolved and athletics put on [illegible]e other basis. A meeting of the [Den]ver university athletic committee [illegible] called last night, according to [Dea]n Manly, when the matter was [disc]ussed.

[Co]lorado college officials are em[phat]ic in their statements that the [gam]e has not been canceled from this [end]. Dean Florian Cajori who, in the [abse]nce of Professor Motten, Colorado [colle]ge's representative in the confer[ence], is in charge of the athletic situ[atio]n, gave out the following state[men]t last night:

"All Off" Declares Manly.

"[D]ean Manly called me up by phone [on] athletic matters tonight. In an[swer] to his inquiry I told him that [the] faculty refused to accept their [supp]lementary eligibility list unless [the] men therein included were de[clar]ed eligible by the conference. [Dea]n Manly replied: 'In that case all [nego]tiations are off.'

"[I] interpret this to mean that nego[tiati]ons are off with reference to a [conf]erence meeting. Dean Manly did [not] say that Denver university would [canc]el the game."

[De]an Cajori would make no further [state]ment last night except that if the [gam]e was cancelled the action was [take]n by Denver university." We ex[pect] to give out some statements de[fini]ng our position on this matter to[morr]ow, and I have nothing more to [say] tonight," he added.

Denver Certifies Freshmen

[Th]e basis of the entire trouble be[twee]n the two schools is Colorado col[lege']s refusal to accept as eligible eight [playe]rs, the names of which were sent [in] Monday from Denver university. [On t]he list were six freshmen, whom [Colo]rado college officials protested on [the g]round of not complying with the [conf]erence requirements, which are [that] a student, to participate in ath[letic]s must have passed 10 hours of [work] in the term preceding his taking [part] in the sports.

[De]nver university took advantage of [a ne]w system in their institution, that [of th]ree terms, the first of which closes [[illegible]], and claims that the freshmen [are] eligible. The lists were sent in [whil]e many of the freshmen had [[illegible]] their examinations, and this [[illegible]] is being raised at Colorado col[lege] as one of the principal claims [again]st the eligibility of the protected [men]. The Colorado college faculty im[medi]ately protested the list on the [abov]e grounds, asking that a meeting [of th]e conference be called to pass on [their] eligibility.

Doubted His Official Word.

[It] was at this point that Dean Manly [beca]me excited. The Denver ath[letic] advisor thought Colorado college [was] doubting his official word as to [the r]ights of the men to play in the [Than]ksgiving game. On the ground [that] as the Denver representative in the athletic conference, he certified to the eligibility of the men in question, and that his word is as good as that of the conference, Dean Manly took the demand of Colorado college as a personal matter.

"If my certificate is not as good as Professor Motten's, there is certainly something radically wrong," said the dean, over the long-distance telephone to The Gazette last night.

"We accepted Colorado college's list over the signature of their athletic representative, without protest, and I saw no reason why I should call a meeting of the conference to settle something that was certain in my own mind," he added.

"Colorado college is not running the Denver university football team. They have no right to tell us what men we shall and shall not play, and we do not propose to have our word doubted."

Manley Admits "Overdoing" It.

Dean Manly admitted last night that the eligibility list of Denver players was two days late in reaching Colorado college officials. He also admitted that Denver "overdid" the supplementary list of freshmen.

"We believed that our freshmen are eligible, and in sending down the names, put eight on the supplementary list, which I will admit looked large because it gave us a squad of 25 to choose from," he said.

Dean Manly then went on to say that it looked to him as if Colorado college did not want to play the game very badly all through the season.

"After we allowed them to postpone the contest from last Saturday to Thanksgiving, to allow their men to rest up for the game, I don't think they are taking a sportsmanlike attitude. The contract for the game was really not signed until two weeks ago," he said.

"I don't believe those fellows down there have any sense of humor at all, and I don't believe they understand the situation at all from our viewpoint up here. The situation seems to me to be an impossible one, and unless the most strenuous action is taken to patch this matter up at once relations between the two schools are at an end."

A conference of the Colorado college athletic board will be held this morning, and until that time local officials will not give out any statements concerning the matter. Dean Cajori had a telephone conversation with Dean Manly last night which the latter ended with the curt announcement that negotiations were at an end. The situation is a critical one, not only breaking in on the big game of the year, but on the already ruffled waters of the conference pool, this added excitement may cause a storm that will end the regime of the conference in the Rocky mountain district.

Other Serious Charges Made.

Other charges of more serious nature that seemed to take a background position in the present trouble were the charges that Denver played three men in the game with the University of Utah under assumed names. This is distinctly a violation of the letter of the conference ruling, although Utah made no protest, because the Mormons won by a 66 to 0 score. Dean Manly, speaking of these claims last night, said:

"If those men were played under assumed names, I knew nothing about it. It is charged that their names were not sent in on the eligibility lists and if this is true I am certainly not to blame. If the coaches at the game allowed those men to play, the university or myself cannot be blamed. I do not know whether they did or not," he said.

Although the local college football management had not received definite word last night of the cancelling of tomorrow's game, it was the belief around college circles that the 1912 football season for the Tigers is over and that the game tomorrow will not be played.

WOLGAST CONFIDENT; SPORTS ARE DIVIDED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. [illegible] [pugi]listic experts point with [illegible] finger tonight to the four[illegible] between Ritchie and Wolgast [illegible] months ago, when the Saginaw [illegible] upset form and surprised the [illegible].

The same writers complain [that Wol]gast has not trained with [illegible] earnestness as [illegible]. Comment has been made [illegible] his boxing spells, he has sh[own] signs of fatigue. The critics do [not] seem willing to forget that Willie, [a] local novice, sprawled the Cad[illac] warrior on his back last Saturday with a solid right to the chin.

Wolgast spent a fairly [illegible] in the gymnasium before a large crowd and when on the [illegible] chatted with friends and ass[illegible] that he would have little diffi[culty] with his opponent in the championship [bat]tle Thanksgiving day at [the] arena.

ANDY SMITH TIRED OF COACHING PENN SQUAD

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—"Unless conditions are materially changed, I would not consider any offer made me to continue as head coach," said "Andy" Smith yesterday when questioned. Smith feels that Pennsylvania must get away from traditions, because the changes in the game have made the system of play successful for Penn in former years ineffective in many ways.

Tradition plays a very big part in all college affairs, and it is usually not until force of necessity commands it that a change is made. Up at Yale they are talking of pulling away from tradition. The rather unsatisfactory development of the football team has led many to believe that the present system of coaching is not adequate. It is Yale tradition to appoint the retiring captain of the team the head coach for the following year, thus thrusting grave football responsibilities upon practically a "green" coach. What some of the older Elis advocate is a graduate system of coaching with a permanent resident head coach.

Every year for several seasons the idea has been broached at Yale, but it has been brushed aside because of constantly interposed objections. On several occasions it has been demonstrated that Yale has gotten much less from the football material through the present system than might have been accomplished had a system been in vogue that guaranteed continuity in policy.

The clinging to tradition at Pennsylvania has not been in keeping with Smith's views. With the control of things being vested in a large committee, Smith's hands have been tied. He is not a football dictator, that position being usurped by the committee, which decides upon the policies to be followed. In other words, Smith, if he remains at Pennsylvania, wants to be the "whole works," and to rise or fall with the success or failure of the team.

Coach Smith complains that the members of the faculty are not extending a helping hand towards the advancement of the football team. "In the last three weeks I have not had a complete varsity team on the field until 4:30 o'clock," said Coach Smith yesterday. "As darkness sets in about 5:15 there is not time enough for real practice for a coach to develop a team."

The players feel that their coach is all right and that the reason for the early defeats was that they did not have sufficient time for practice and to develop their team play. They all have unbounded faith in Smith's ability as a coach and point to the Michigan and Indian games to show that their confidence is not in vain.

Lack of development is the wail at Yale also. The old Elis feel that the best has not been made of the material at hand. This fact was pressed upon them in the Princeton game when their team composed of big and powerful men was outplayed by Princeton and was saved from defeat by almost a miracle.

"The trouble with the present system," said a former Yale captain, "is that it installs a prominent player who has just been graduated from college as head coach. He assumes the position and is at sea for a few weeks. He lacks executive coaching experience. Perhaps he is an able fellow. In that case, by the time the season comes to an end he is just beginning to get a firm grasp on his duties. By this time he sees his errors of early season and has corrected some of them.

"But he has lost much valuable time which has been improved by the veteran coach at the rival university. The final games of the season are at hand, and, unless he has wonderful material, his team may be defeated by a weaker rival eleven well coached."

PRESIDENT FOGEL OUT AS CHIEF OF PHILLIES

Resignation, Announced Yesterday, Follows Charges Made by Other National League Magnates

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Horace Fogel, president of the Philadelphia National league baseball club, tendered his resignation to the National league magnates in session here this afternoon.

He took this action [illegible] without explanation [illegible] titled magnates, [illegible] the charges against [illegible] made statements [illegible] tegrity of National league [illegible].

It was also [illegible] B. Wiler of Philadelphia [illegible] elected president of the Philadelphia National league club at a meeting held on November 22. Mr. Wiler will represent the club at the session here.

Mr. Wiler is a lawyer and stockholder in the Philadelphia club.

Notwithstanding Fogel's resignation it is understood the investigation into the charges against him will go on and will be cleared up.

Baseball magnates heard this afternoon that Christy Mathewson, the star pitcher of the New York Nationals, had obtained sufficient financial backing to purchase the Philadelphia club.

Julius Fleischmann of Cincinnati presided over the meeting, at the request of President Lynch.

All the clubs were represented: Chicago by President Murphy and Henry Ackerland, Cincinnati by President Herrmann and Julius and Max Fleischmann, New York by Cornelius J. Sullivan and R. H. McCutcheon, Philadelphia by Alfred D. Wiler, William Conway and A. T. Hedstor, Pittsburg by William Locke, St. Louis by E. H. Jones, Brooklyn by President Charles Ebbets and Boston by James Gaffney. Fogel was represented by A. S. L. Shields of Philadelphia and the league as a body by J. Conway Toole of this city.

At the outset the Philadelphia club presented documents showing that Fogel had resigned as president November 22, and that Wiler had been elected his successor.

Seven distinct charges were made against Fogel, alleging that he had issued false and slanderous statements which would make for public distrust of the National league; that the St. Louis team had placed weak teams in the field against New York; that the National league pennant race of 1912 was not properly conducted; that the race in question and the umpires had been "fixed for New York to win"; that the umpires had been "fixed" for the same end; that Philadelphia did not receive a fair deal, and that Fogel caused the statements in question to appear in a Chicago newspaper September 28.

Fogel's reply was a general denial of the charges. He questioned jurisdiction of the National league in calling him to account in the manner it had done. As to the alleged remarks, he declared that another Philadelphia professional man had made the statements attributed to him. That man did not wish his name to be known, Fogel said. He declared at the time the statements [illegible] there [illegible] safeguards thrown around professional baseball for such [illegible] to questions [illegible] he believed the [illegible] officials or President [illegible] Fogel replied [illegible].

[illegible] out [illegible] the Philadelphia [illegible] any [illegible] consistently [illegible].

[illegible] newspaper men [illegible] Fogel make [illegible] to him. Several Philadelphia newspaper men testified to the contrary, attributing the [illegible] to a Philadelphia professional [illegible] Fogel has asserted [illegible] the charges.

KNOCKOUT BROWN GSTS DRAW WITH PHIL BROCK

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 26.—"Knockout" Brown of New York and Phil Brock of Cleveland fought 12 rounds to a draw here tonight, according to a newspaper decision.

The bout was the roughest ever seen here, and when the gong rang at the finish the uproar was so great that the combatants kept right on lambasting each other. They had to be separated.

Brown sought continually to get close to Brock and was the better at the infighting. At long range Brock scored often with his left. Brock cut Brown's lip open early in the bout. In the closing rounds Brown started Brock's nose bleeding. The men weighed in at 133 pounds.

PENN'S PRACTICE FAST

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—The University of Pennsylvania football squad went through a fast signal drill today. The players will remain in the suburbs until Thursday, when they will return to Franklin field for the game with Cornell.

TRENDALL BEATS KEYES

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26.—Harry Trendall, of St. Louis lightweight, was awarded the popular decision over [illegible] Keyes of New York here tonight [in] eight rounds. The men weighed [in at] 133 pounds this afternoon.

More than $[illegible] has been added to the Indianapolis (Ind.) city treasury this year by automobile licenses. On January 1, 1912, there were 138 miles of paved streets in the city. Since that date contracts for paving streets have been awarded, amounting to about $500,000. Street cleaning this year will cost the city $120,000; repairing and maintaining unimproved streets, $55,000, and repairing paved streets, $85,000.

SCHOOL OF MINES IS OFF FOR GAME WITH POMONA

[DE]NVER, Nov. 26.—Concluding its [final] preparation with signal practice [this] morning, the Colorado State [School] of Mines football team left to[day] for Los Angeles, to meet the [Pomo]na college team, Saturday. The [men] today appeared refreshed after [a few d]ays' rest following their victory [over] the University of Colorado last [Satur]day, by which they won the Colo[rado] state championship. Eighteen [men] who will make the trip, are: Cap[tain Y]oung, Harper, De Laittre, Mey[er, S]hanley, Hinman, McKnight, Mc[illegible], Wolff, Burris, Cadot, Stringham, [illegible] Eaton, Dudgeon, Pearce, [illegible]sch and Johnson.

PALZER TO MEET WINNER OF FLYNN-M'CARTY BOUT

[LOS] ANGELES, Nov. 26.—Al Palzer, [N]ew York heavyweight, will meet [the wi]nner of the Flynn-McCarty fight [schedu]led for Vernon arena December [illegible] the heavyweight elimination con[test] to determine the championship of [the w]hite hope" class.

[Pr]omoter McCarey concluded nego[tiation]s today with Tom O'Rourke, [manag]er of the New York fighter, and [the fig]ht will occur New Years day.

CORNELL READY FOR PENN

[ATL]ANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 26.—[The C]ornell football team arrived here [today] to finish its preparations for the [Than]ksgiving day game with the Uni[versity] of Pennsylvania. The same [team t]hat faced Michigan probably will [start] at the opening of the game, ex[cept t]hat Fritz, who has recovered [from h]is injuries, will supplant Ban[[illegible]] right half.

FUNERAL OF J. T. BRUSH WILL BE HELD FRIDAY

[ST.] LOUIS, Nov. 26.—The body of [J.] T. Brush, president of the New [York] Nationals, who died early this [mornin]g, 36 miles north of here, while [on his] way to San Francisco for his [health,] was sent on a noon train to [Indianap]olis, where the funeral will be [held] Friday at the home of his [daught]er, Mrs. Harry Newton Hemp[illegible]

Thorpes and Arcasas of Indian Football Teams of the Past Are Now Successful Business Men in Various Parts of the Country

After the Carlisle-West Point football game a group of old-time followers of the game started a discussion of the wonderful Carlisle players of years past and naturally somebody wanted to know what had become of the great Indian players of former years. Coach Warner, who has been head of the athletic end of Carlisle since 1899, happened to be close by, and, as he had no coaching to do just then, he consented to tell what he knew of the present condition in life of the men who made the thousands cheer by their play. His story was an interesting narrative that may be only sketched here.

"I have been able to keep in touch with many of the boys, and they are getting along splendidly," he said. "There is Johnson, for instance, the star All-American quarterback and captain of the eleven, who completed his course at Carlisle in 1903. Johnson went to Northwestern university, and took a course in dentistry. Then he married a Carlisle school girl, went to Porto Rico and now is one of the leading dentists on that island.

"Remember Frank Cayou, that good looking Indian, who was such an artist in circling the ends in the late '90s? After leaving Carlisle Cayou went to St. Louis, where he became athletic director at Washington university. Then there was that other famous Indian of Cayou's time—Beamis Pierce, the giant guard. Beamis married a Carlisle school girl and settled on a farm in western New York. Hawley, his brother, who played such a fine game at tackle in 1899 and 1900, joined the operating force of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg railroad, and now occupies an important position in that company.

"Law and dentistry were the professions elected by Carl Sickles and Ed Rogers. 'Big Jim' Phillips went from Carlisle to the Northwestern university, and, upon finishing his course, he married an Indian girl and is now doing well as a farmer in the state of Washington.

"If there is one Indian who gained a [illegible] it is Charles Dillon, the big Sioux who placed [illegible] grad[uation] from Carlisle Dillon entered the Indian service and he is now stationed in Montana, and is doing first-class work for Uncle Sam.

"Charles Wah, the fine-looking Chippewa, who played end in 1905 and 1906, is [illegible] the head of a branch of a large retail concern [illegible] Wah [illegible] one of the welthiest of all the Carlisle alumni is Walter [illegible], who made his reputation in the last part of the '90s. He is a successful ranch owner in Oklahoma, and a conservative estimate of the value of his holdings is $100,000. Ben Caswell, who played in the '94 eleven, the first which Carlisle ever had, is the principal of an Indian school in Minnesota.

"Red Water, the giant Cheyenne, who played guard in 1901, represented the government in the recent visit of the Cheyenne chiefs to Washington. This picturesque happening attracted a great deal of notice, for the Indian leaders came to speak to the 'white father.' It was Red Water who served as interpreter and told them what the president had to say to them.

"Jonas Metoxen married in his tribe, the [illegible] branch of the Indian race, and is now a successful farmer in Wisconsin. William Gardner, the star end on the 1907 team, which was one of the best ever turned out by Glenn Warner, is now a member of the faculty of the Manual Training High school [illegible] teams. Charles Williams, [illegible] in the army and now stationed at Fort [illegible]. Albert Exendine, captain and end of the '06 team, has coached various college teams since his graduation, but is now studying law at Dickinson, and Antonio Lupo of the California

GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS

THOSE Republicans who have all along complacently assumed that after the election the Progressives would be gradually reabsorbed into the old party, and that, with perhaps a few changes, the old organization would go along as before, ought by this time to have seen a light. At the Progressive conference in Denver Monday night it was made very plain that the new party will remain separate; any faint suggestion of fusion, even, met with vigorous disapproval.

At the conference the first steps were taken towards putting the new party in Colorado on a permanent footing. Organization, of course, is the first necessity. It appears most probable that the Progressives will copy their organization after that of the Social Democratic party of Germany, which is based upon a dues-paying membership. By means of dues it is hoped that funds will be secured for carrying the necessary propaganda work into every county in every state. Before the next campaign opens the Progressives expect to have a compactly-organized, efficient and loyal nucleus in every precinct in Colorado.

But the Progressives will not stop with organization. The new party is not an end in itself. Its continued existence will be justified only as it becomes a means towards the end of better government. In order that the people of Colorado may know just where the party stands on all questions, and in order that they may know that the Progressive party platform is not a mere collection of promises meant only to attract votes, as has been charged, a legislative committee has been appointed which is to draw up in the form of bills every promise contained in the Progressive state platform, and to work for the enactment of those bills into law, in conjunction with the Progressive members of the legislature.

The people will be shown just what the Progressives stand for just what they would do if entrusted with the state administration. Moreover, the legislative program that will be submitted will show how impossible it is for the Progressives ever to join with the old guard of either of the old parties for the Progressive legislative program is one that has always encountered the bitterest opposition of the corporations, and of those old machine politicians who were and are still controlled by the corporations.

The Progressives will welcome the assistance of all progressives in both old parties in putting through their legislative program. But they will insist on bringing to a vote every pledge they made to the people.

BRYAN AND WILSON

WHAT is to be Bryan's game? This is the all-absorbing question in Democratic circles. Will he enter Wilson's cabinet as unquestionably he will have the opportunity to do and cooperate loyally with the new president in making the administration a success? Or will he remain without the cabinet, keeping himself in position to criticize any mistake Wilson may make, in hope of profiting by it personally in 1916?

Both views have their champions. Back east the press quite unanimously is of the opinion that Bryan is incapable of anything unselfish, and quite capable of wrecking the Wilson administration out of mere spite. The eastern view is that Wilson owes nothing to Bryan, but was elected in spite of the latter's support.

In the west a different view prevails. The western Democrat is inclined to believe that but for Bryan Wilson would never have been nominated, or, nominated, would never have been elected. In their view Wilson owes it to Bryan to consult the Nebraskan in making up his cabinet and to follow his advice in determining his policies.

Bryan the destroyer, or Bryan the savior he's one or the other, according to the bias of the man who describes him. Already the New York dailies are demanding that Wilson pay no attention to him, Champ Clark and his following are preparing to destroy him politically, and altogether W. J. B. occupies a position very much in the spotlight.

But much as he is hated in certain quarters he must be conciliated, however obnoxious that may be to some people, for the fear that, if he is "kicked out" of the party, as some hot heads advise, he will carry his following over into the Progressive party. And that wouldn't leave much of Democracy.

So, in spite of the New York dailies, William Jennings Bryan is going to be more or less prominent in the new administration. And if the expected split comes between conservatives and progressives, Bryan will almost certainly be found leading the progressives.

TRADE AT HOME

WHEN you trade with a Colorado Springs merchant your money goes to the upbuilding of this city. The home merchant pays taxes for the support of our schools and parks; he pays special assessments for street paving.

When you trade with an out-of-town merchant your money goes to the injury of this city. The Denver merchant contributes his money to movements having for their object the exaltation of Denver at the expense of Colorado Springs.

It's as important that you do your Christmas shopping with home merchants as that you do it early.

HONOR FOR DR. SLOCUM

HONORS continue to come to Dr. W. F. Slocum, president of Colorado college. To be chosen vice chairman of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching is to receive one of the highest honors in the scholastic world. The fact that David Star Jordan was the previous occupant of the office is sufficient proff of the esteem in which Dr. Slocum is held by his distinguished fellow educators.

And yet, with all these personal honors, it is probable the thing Dr. Slocum would prefer above all else would be the money needed to guarantee the erection of the new gymnasium. For the college has always been the child of his heart, and it is for Colorado college and its advancement that he labors at all times.

It is no small honor to Colorado Springs that such a man as Dr. Slocum is a citizen here. The people of this city could not in a better manner testify their appreciation of what he has done, or show their approval of the new honor he has won, than by giving him the small sum necessary to complete the $100,000 needed for the new gymnasium.

SHORT HOURS MEAN BETTER WORK

EXPERIMENTS with the eight-hour day in the steel mills both of the United States and England prove that, while the cost of steel may be raised somewhat, by the introduction of the shorter day, the resulting benefits to the employes are so great as to counterbalance this slight loss. The men can do so much more and so much better work each hour of the day when that day is only eight hours long than when it is twelve as almost to make up the difference in cost of labor. One plant has actually found that the labor cost has been reduced by putting into effect the eight-hour day, though wages remain the same.

It has been sufficiently demonstrated that the demand of the Progressives for an eight-hour law for all steel plants will not injure the business, even if wages remain the same, nor even greatly increase the cost of steel. And it will be of tremendous benefit to the men employed.

OCEAN TO OCEAN HIGHWAY.

From the Kansas City Journal.

In the stress of the presidential campaign comparatively little attention has been paid by the general public to one of the most important of the many enterprises that have been proposed by the good roads advocates—the ocean to ocean highway from New York to San Francisco. Incidentally this great rock thoroughfare stretching from one ocean to the other will pass through Kansas City, as now mapped out, and is therefore of particular interest to all the people in the Kansas City trade territory. Conceived and practically financed by the automobile industry and those associated with it, instead of depending entirely on popular interest and public appropriations, it will constitute when completed a splendid monument to the public spirit of the motor car industry, itself one of the most wonderful industrial developments of the times.

If this great project held out a promise of benefiting only those connected with the automobile industry, the enterprise would not be the subject of such general commendation as it must receive when it is remembered that such a road will be a lasting benefit and tangible asset in relation to the prosperity of every section which it will traverse. It is proposed that all the material for this great highway, extending in round numbers for 3,500 miles, is to be bought with funds supplied directly by the motor car trade, including automobile and tire manufacturers, motor car dealers and others directly connected with the industry. The federal government has agreed to furnish expert supervision, which is the equivalent in value of service that would cost private road builders tens of thousands of dollars. A small proportion of the cost is to be defrayed by the county, municipal and state authorities of the country through which the highway is to pass.

The maximum cost of the enterprise, as the figures were officially given, out when the project was first broached, is to be $15,000,000, of which the automobile industry pledges about two thirds, and of this two-thirds, or $10,000,000, about one-half has already been raised. It is hoped to have the highway completed in time for the Pacific coast exhibition of 1915. Too much has been said by way of proving the value of good roads to necessitate any arguments in behalf of this most comprehensive of all transcontinental good roads projects. Enthusiastic indorsement has been given to the enterprise "all along the line" and it is confidently expected that almost coincidentally with the passage of the first ships through the Panama canal, that crowning manifestation of American genius, the first motor cars will pass over this wonderful inland highway from ocean to ocean. Certainly nothing could be so stimulating to the good roads movement in general as a great comprehensive object lesson like this 3,500-mile rock highway.

BIRDS AND BUGS.

From the New York Tribune.

The annual meeting of the National Association of Audubon societies has called attention again to the wholesale destruction of birds and to the disastrous results which are likely to follow so marked a disturbance of the balance of nature. At the same time Dr. Hornaday, the director of the New York Zoological park, puts forward a circular letter on the subject, with a report from a committee of the Fourth National Conservation congress. It is represented that five million men and boys are slaughtering birds in this country, and that insect pests are inflicting losses of hundreds of millions of dollars yearly upon the nation, most of which would be averted if the birds had not been destroyed. It is, therefore, urged that congress should, at this winter's session, enact one of the three bills which are now before it for the protection of migratory birds.

There may be those who will regard the statements made as exaggerated, though they are, in fact, probably well within the limits of truth. There may be those who do not take interest in wild life and who do not love birds for either their beauty or their melody. But even the most unsympathetic utilitarian must find food for thought in the indubitable statistics of losses from insect pests and of expenses incurred in artificially fighting them. It must be evident to the practical mind, moreover, that any considerable elimination of bird life unfavorably affects the balance of natural forces. A large proportion of birds are distinctively insectivorous. Their existence and activities in normal numbers keep the insects from becoming too numerous, and conversely their destruction affords the insects opportunity to increase abnormally.

That is the logic of the case, and it is not to be overthrown. It explains why certain insect pests have so enormously increased in recent years, at a cost of hundreds of millions to the country. Certainly it suggests in the most direct and convincing manner the need of prompt legislation for whatever protection to insect-destroying birds it is possible to afford. It is probably true, as stated, that the value of the birds as insect destroyers is far greater than that of their feathers and of their flesh for food. Certainly it seems like the economies of bedlam to spend vast sums in inefficient artificial efforts to subdue insect pests when the birds would do the work ever so much more efficiently, at no cost to us, if only we would let them do it.

PUBLIC SAFETY AND GROWTH OF THE TROLLEY.

From the New York American.

Following the great railroad growth in the United States has been the spread of electric lines. At a meeting of the American Electric Railway association, recently held in Chicago, it was shown that in 30 years nearly 2,000 miles of electric lines have been built annually until now there are 43,000 miles owned and operated by 1,300 railroads carrying more than ten billion passengers a year.

It is hoped, however, that the railroads in absorbing electric lines will not do so at the expense of public safety. A recent wreck showed that the New Haven road has neglected modern improvements because of the tremendous expense of acquiring trolley systems.

There is small sense in providing greater traveling facilities by trolley if traveling by steam is to be made dangerous as a result.

"G. B. S." AND THE MOSLEMS.

From the Kansas City Star.

George Bernard Shaw had better keep away from Turkey. It seems that the Turks read "Arms and the Man" and heard the opera, "The Chocolate Soldier." The idea conveyed, and apparently accepted by the Turks, was that the Balkan soldiers would be candy for any real fighters.

It is said that when the soldiers of the sultan were running from Lule Burgas they muttered between breaths, "If dat Shaw guy comes around here we won't do a ting to 'im."

On Being Late

By RUTH CAMERON.

They say time is money, and yet how many people who are thoroughly scrupulous about other people's money are equally unscrupulous about other people's time!

Such folks would be horrified at the thought of taking a single penny out of a pocketbook entrusted to them, and yet, when a friend entrusts his time pocketbook to such a one by making an appointment with him, the time thief thinks that making off with a large sum of time is a mere peccadillo to be wiped off the slate with an excuse or two.

The other day I was waiting for a friend in the doorway of one of the large stores in the city near which I live. A woman was standing near me who had evidently been waiting for someone a long time and was rather impatient. Finally a young girl came sauntering along as if she had all the time in the world. The older woman called her attention to the fact that it was long past the time at which she had promised to meet her, and the young girl answered, "Oh, what time is it? Am I very late?" I did not hear any more because they walked away, but what I did hear showed that the girl had not considered the keeping of her appointment important enough to even keep track of the time.

A young man told me a short time ago that the only fault he had to find with the young lady to whom he is engaged is that she is never on time. A while ago they were going to the opera and as usual she was late in getting to the meeting place. Consequently, they missed the first act, the young man was out of sorts and showed it, she resented his crossness and before the evening was over she was in tears and the pleasure of the opera was spoiled for both of them. This is but one example of the sort of thing that is continually happening. Comic papers make a joke of this fault on the part of women, but it has caused this man so much trouble that he is really disturbed about it and considers it a serious defect in character.

My aunt told the other night of a recent experience of hers. She has a friend for whom she always has to wait from 15 minutes to half an hour, and a short time ago she waited a whole hour, and then, as the friend did not show up she went home without meeting her. Shortly afterwards the friend called her up on the telephone and asked her why she did not meet her. My aunt replied that she had waited an hour and that that was the last time she would ever make an appointment with her. The consequence is that a friendship of long standing has been practically broken up by this careless habit.

Of course, there are many times when the breaking of an appointment cannot be helped, or when being late for an appointment is unavoidable, and I think people should always be given a chance to explain. But it seems to me that a regular habit of stealing other people's time in this way shows a lack of sense of honor and is utterly inexcusable.

The Dictagraph

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

The dictagraph is a sort of verbal camera which can take a snap shot of an extremely personal conversation in a quiet and unostentatious manner and reproduce it two years later where it will do the most good.

The dictagraph is a phonograph with a detective annex. When it is placed under a table or in a closet or in the coal scuttle or the chimney, it pays close attention to all the conversation within range as long as it is wound up. Later on when it is taken into the court room and turned loose not even the most alarming attorney can rattle it when it tells its story. It is harder to cross-examine a dictagraph than it is to get information out of Rockefeller.

The dictagraph is a young machine and hadn't been heard of four years ago. But it has already done a great deal of work. Because of the dictagraph a large number of grafters have listened with great pain and anguish to their own words produced in an excessively public place and have retired from office into small and badly ventilated cells. As a result there is now a great outcry against the dictagraph by earnest men who are modest and retiring about their political transactions and it is more thoroughly hated than even the human reformer. If the dictagraph continues to toil as industriously as it has the slippery elm statesmen will have to learn to talk on their fingers in order to be even reasonably safe.

"In the interests of matrimony the new invention should be kept out of our parlors."

Because the dictagraph is so young its field of usefulness has not yet been thoroughly explored. In the future it will be much busier than it is now. In about five years every railroad and theater ticket office will be supplied with a built-in dictagraph and the clerks' remarks to the public will be examined every morning by an inspector. All political promises will be made in dictagraph booths and when a dozen earnest philanthropists meet around a mahogany table to discuss the price of beef the dictagraph will be among those present.

It is even possible that when a young man and young woman are gathered in a quiet and affectionate manner the dictagraph will also be present in a great majority of cases. Three is a crowd in such events, but when the third party is a dictagraph it will be a whole mob in itself. In the interests of matrimony the new invention should be kept out of our parlors.

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Some domestic difficulty threatens you, either sickness or disappointment. You will be tempted to turn to social pleasures, but your material welfare will need your serious attention.

Those born today will not be successful or likable, unless they overcome a natural carelessness in dress and deportment. They can, if they will, become capable of filling high positions of trust and will succeed best under the direction of others.

ADVANCE OF PHOTOGRAPHY

From the Philadelphia Press.

Photography is today, in its best results, a supremely fine art. Its rarest achievements and its continuous promise are one of the great wonders of an incessantly astounding age. The anniversary of the annable and famous Frederick Gutekunst this week adds happy emphasis to the fact. In the span of his eight decades of worthy life, he has lived to see the artisan of his craft merge into the confines of true artistry, and, in special instances of invited or challenged competition, emerge triumphant.

This is so because the camera became the implement of intelligent labor; then presently the toy of science, and is now become the handmaid—perhaps the friendly companion—of our exalted mistress, Art. There now can be no question of rivalry between the lens and the brush; each has its province, each its self-respect. But the one stays proudly defiant, leaning on its palette; the other moves on cheerfully with the moving pictures of the age, recording its phenomena with a beautiful accuracy.

And, incidentally, it reproduces with miraculous fidelity the canvases of classic art itself. A generation ago the makers or admirers of pictorial representation were dumbfounded suddenly into admiration of the skill with which the man behind the camera made possible the faultless reproduction of a black-an-white sketch—in composition, line and tone. They then foresaw the passing of the distinguished engraver on steel, copper or wood. And one of the earliest to know and acknowledge it was the dean of them all—the late John Sartain of Philadelphia who introduced the art of mezzotint engraving into this country.

THE HASKIN LETTER

THE FISH INDUSTRY
V—IN THE SOUTHERN STATES

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

In the early days of this country, the fishing industry of the south had a high value because of the variety and quality of the fish taken. As commerce increased however, the value of the southern fisheries decreased chiefly because, owing to commercial inactivity, for a period, there was a lack of facilities for transporting the fish to market and a lack of ice to preserve them in proper condition. During the past few years these difficulties have been largely overcome and with the cooperation of the United States bureau of fisheries each of the southern states is actively endeavoring to increase the value of its former fish products as well as to develop new ones. In the palmy days "befo' de war," the fish markets of New Orleans were the finest fresh fish marts in the world and were noted for the variety and quality of the sea food on sale as well as the tasteful manner in which it was displayed. Then the principal market fell into comparative disuse. Now an up-to-date building is being erected for the accommodation of the French market in which the latest ideas of refrigeration are to be in operation. The partitions will be of white tiles, and imitation marble pillars will support the roof. Thus sanitation and Dowling display the picturesque and Bienville.

One of the most important accomplishments in the development of the southern fishing trade, aside from the oyster industry which forms a story of itself, is the introduction of shad into the waters of the southern rivers. It is nearly 10 years since a consignment of over 15,000,000 young shad were placed in the streams of eastern and western Florida. While their introduction to the waters emptying into the Gulf does not seem to have had any permanent result, the rivers of east Florida are now well stocked with this fish which furnishes an appreciable addition to its market resources. In both North and South Carolina the shad has been planted in the same manner and the markets at Charleston and Savannah depend chiefly upon the local supply of this fish which was formerly shipped in from other states.

Curious Animals Abound.

The southern waters seem to abound with unusual animals calculated to excite the interest of the general public as well as scientific men. At Beaufort, North Carolina, where one of the marine laboratories of the United States bureau of fisheries is erected upon land donated for the purpose by private individuals, a curious "fish," which was not a fish, was captured last month by an old boatman. It is known as a cow-fish a variety almost extinct, and is a marine mammal, similar to a whale. It was nearly 20 feet in length and weighed over a ton. It came up in shallow water and beat itself to death upon the shoal. It is intended to have it preserved, if possible, in the National museum. A 40-pound devil fish recently captured near Gulfport, Miss., is described in a local paper as having "a tail like a rat, wings like a bat and two mouths, while its back was encrusted with a hard horny shell." The fish was brought to the surface of the water in a net and shot with a pistol by a couple of men who were in quest of food fish.

CIRCUS PICTURES AT THE OPERA HOUSE THIS AFTERNOON AND EVENING

The Carl Hagenback and Wallace Circus Pictures opened yesterday afternoon with a matinee to a fair house and despite the bad weather the night house was packed.

These pictures show the circus all from start to finish from the unloading of the circus, the putting up of the tents, a trip through the menagerie and the big performance in the large tent.

One of the novel features is the watering of the big hippopotamus with a fire hose at every performance.

Special attention was given the clowns in making these pictures, for the entertainment of children.

Mr. Lou Fink and his Famous Circus Band gave an open air concert in front of the theater before each performance, and also play during the entertainment.

These pictures will be shown again today at 2:15 and 7:45 and a special matinee Thanksgiving day only.

Prices: matinee, adults 25c, and children 10c.

Night—10-20-30c. Seats reserved for the first performance only.

BOUGHT AND PAID FOR, COMING

Traveling direct from New York to the Pacific coast, Wm. A. Brady's production of George Broadhurst's play "Bought and Paid For," comes to us after three weeks' engagement at the Cort theater in San Francisco, where it is breaking all records, and will be the attraction at the Grand opera house next Monday evening for one performance only.

As to the play itself, "Bought and Paid For" is in three acts, the scenes of which are laid in New York city at the present time. The story, briefly, concerns the marriage of Virginia Blaine, a ten-dollar-a-week telephone operator, to Robert Stafford, millionaire and man about town, their subsequent separation as the result of the husband's over-indulgence in drink, and their final reunion through the power of love, and a little side aid from a scheming brother-in-law. The story is told by Mr. Broadhurst, author of "The Man of the Hour," and several other good plays, teems with interest through the acts with an equal sprinkling of laughter and wet handkerchiefs. "Bought and Paid For" is a play for those who are married or expect to be.

"Bought and Paid For" comes to the Pacific coast with a great recommendation. Just prior to its departure from New York, the play entered upon its second year at Wm. A. Brady's playhouse, at 48th street. A play that can run through an entire season and brave the heat of Broadway, necessarily has something to guarantee its entertaining qualities.

THE BURNS NEWS NOTES

Remember that the first performance of that delightful comedy, "At Cozy Corners," was on Tuesday night, runs all the week, with special matinees on Thanksgiving and Saturday. Just the play for this week.

We have in preparation one of the prettiest romances of the day. "The Little Gray Lady," opens December 3. Other equally good, high-class quality plays in store.

This week's music is full of [illegible] fire. Thanksgiving music.

"At Cozy Corners," the bill for this week at The Burns, is a rural comedy drama in four acts, by Paulin Phelps and Marion Short.

It is recognized as one of the best modern rural plays, having a strong dramatic story and all the comedy elements which are always so plentiful in rural plays.

AFTER TURKEY, THE BURNS, WITH "AT COZY CORNERS." MATINEE AND NIGHT

The first rural comedy of the season at The Burns, "Our New Minister," proved so successful that Mr. Hawkins at once decided on "At Cozy Corners" as the best available rural comedy drama.

Mr. Arnold will again appear as the minister, a character in which he was so well received in "Our New Minister." The part is an entirely different one, and offers excellent opportunity. Miss Wayne will be seen as Avis Merill, a young violinist who is trying to have a short vacation away from the glare of the footlights and the admiration of the public and press. Florence Hart will have the best character comedy opportunity she has had this season in the part of Amanda, the hired girl, who only works out for accommodation. Mr. Cross will enact the role of Mark Grandy, the manager of the violinist. Miss Ferguson will be Gardner, as Deancon Pettibone. Ross Birchett, as the much-in-love country boy, and the remainder of The Burns players equally well cast, so that the public may look forward to a production and a play really worth while; and, withal, seasonable, and great music for this occasion.

SPECIAL

Matinee Thanksgiving at 2:30 p. m. Prices, 50c, 35c, reserved; 25c, unreserved.

The Burns management took pleasure in stating that arrangements have been completed with Mr. William Fink to give a musical program especially adapted to Thanksgiving. After the splendid music which the orchestra has rendered during the last season, the public may rest assured that The Burns program for Thanksgiving week will include musical numbers which will be a high-class treat in themselves.

There will be two matinees this week, one on Thanksgiving and one on Saturday. The play will be presented in perfect style, every actor being already word-perfect.

KATHERINE OLIVER-M'COY AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH, TONIGHT

"I never thocht there cud be sic a wumman in the world. Eh mon! but you was unearthly," was "Clashlegarie" comment on Katherine Oliver's recital in "Drumtochty."

Katherine Oliver gave her own interpretation of "The Little Minister" before the author, James Barrie, in his home in London. She also read "The Sky Pilot" to Ralph Conner who said, "I am glad my children are in your hands."

In addition to the portrayal of Dr. Grenfell's work in "Doctor Luke of the Labrador," Mrs. McCoy will interpret several Scotch stories by McLaren, Barrie and Burns.

The advance ticket sale indicates an exceptionally large audience. Phone Main 734 and tickets will be delivered.

"CAN'T PROVE I STOLE PANTS," PANTS PRISONER

"Lockwood didn't see me steal those pants. He can't get up in court and swear that I stole them. I demand a trial by jury."

This was the attitude taken by Daniel Ross when arraigned before Justice Faulkner Monday night, on a charge of stealing three pairs of corduroy trousers, valued at $10, from the store of H. S. Lockwood, 622 Colorado avenue. Lockwood left his store Monday afternoon, but forgot to lock the door. While he was gone the trousers disappeared. Later in the evening Night Captain Barnhart caught Ross while he was trying the police say, to dispose of two pairs. He was taken before Justice Faulkner's court, where a warrant was sworn out, and he was arraigned for the theft. He pleaded not guilty. Accordingly, after his trial had been set for 3 o'clock this afternoon, a jury of three was summoned. In the meantime he was committed to the county jail.

Barnhart recovered two of the three pairs of pants when he arrested Ross, but the police have so far been unable to find the man to whom Ross is thought to have sold the other pair.

Old Lady's Sage Advice

Knoxville, Tenn.—Mrs. Mamie Tawe, of 402 W. Main street, this city, says: "If you had seen me before I began to take Cardui, you would not think I was the same person. Six doctors failed to do me good, and my friends thought I would die. I could hardly get out of bed or walk a step. At last an old lady advised me to take Cardui, and now I am go most [illegible]. All ailing women need Cardui, as a gentle, refreshing tonic, especially adapted to their peculiar ailments. It is a reliable vegetable remedy, successfully used for over 50 years. You ought to try it. Adv.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The erratic course of the money market today was reflected in operations in stocks, although quotations were appreciably steadier than was the case yesterday.

Call money, opening at 9 per cent, quickly advanced to 12 per cent, and renewals were made at 11 per cent, as compared with 6 per cent yesterday. After touching the high point, the rate declined steadily until before the close money was offered at 3 per cent.

There was some further calling in of loans owing to the demands of interior banks, and it was suggested also that "window dressing" for the expected call from the comptroller for a statement of the condition of national banks played a part in the action of the money market.

The more urgent demands for funds were quickly satisfied, however, and during the last part of the day call loans were in small request. Time loans hardened in sympathy with the movement of call money.

The stock market was relieved today of pressure from abroad. On more reassuring news of the European political situation, the foreign markets improved, and there was a sympathetic advance on the home exchange at the opening. Interest was centered largely on the money, and when call loans rose to 12 per cent, quotations fell off sharply for a time. With the easing of money, however, the market steadied, and toward the close prices rose to the highest point of the day.

The bond market was under pressure today, with some large blocks of semi-speculative issues changing hands. Total sales, par value, $2,225,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Wheat slid down in price here today, chiefly because European quotations appeared to make a war scare absurd. The market closed heavy, 1⅜ to 1¾ under last night.

Heavy receipts and a big increase in the visible supply tended further to discourage the wheat bulls. May ranged from 90¼ to 91¼, with last sales at 90¾.

Larger receipts and fine weather depressed corn. May fluctuated between 47⅝@47¾ and 48⅛, closing easy ⅜c net lower at 47¾@47⅞. Cash grades were heavy.

Covering by shorts kept the oats market relatively steady. May closed ⅜@½c off at 32¼@32⅜.

Stock yard houses unloaded provisions and active deliveries underwent a net decline of 5@7½ to 17½.

The Haskin Letter

THE FISH INDUSTRY

V—IN THE SOUTHERN STATES

By Frederick J. Haskin

tent. Before the Spanish war, a thriving trade was done with Cuba in the salted mullet industry. After that, the trade in this fish declined for a time, but now is being revived, only instead of being salted, it is being shipped in ice and sold fresh. In shipping mullet, an ordinary boxcar is used having a partition across it at both sides of the doors to form a compartment at each end of the car. Alternating layers of mullet and cracked ice are placed in these enclosures until the car contains a load of 24,000 pounds of fish.

The red snapper fishing still centers at Pensacola although it is becoming important at Tampa as well as at several other points. The sturgeon and turtle fisheries are also increasing in value, while the sponge fisheries constitute an industry which is so far confined exclusively to Florida. There are several canning factories located upon the western coast of this state which put up oysters and turtle principally, although the preparation of sturgeons' eggs as caviar is also a profitable trade.

The chief fisheries of Alabama are located in Mobile bay, Mississippi sound and the Gulf of Mexico. Aside from oysters, red snapper is the most important product and this industry centers in Mobile bay. Snapper vessels go east as far as Tampa and west as far as Mexico. The banks nearest to Mobile are about 10 miles out. Snapper fishing is done in water from 20 to 75 fathoms in depth. The crew consists of from six to eight men, two men fishing from the vessel and the others from dories carrying two men each. This fishery is prosecuted during every month of the year. An average of three trips is made every two months, the aim being not to keep the fish longer than 10 or 12 days after they are caught. Ladyfish is the most used bait. On an average, a trip to banks requries $15 worth of bait and if successful the vessel will return with from 2,500 to 3,000 red snappers weighing from five to 30 pounds each. The usual rate of payment to the fishermen is about three and a half cents a pound for snappers weighing seven pounds or under and 25 cents apiece for those weighing more than seven pounds.

Shrimp Next to Oysters.

In Mississippi the shrimp industry ranks next to oysters in the fish products of the state. Most of the oyster vessels engage in taking shrimps in the spring and the fall. April and May and September and October being the seasons. In the spring the shrimps come in close to the land and are caught in the small bayous which penetrate the marshes. By the first of August they all have disappeared and are not to be seen again until the fall season when they are caught from 10 to 40 miles from shore.

The fish products of Louisiana include several varieties in addition to those found in the other states, among them the delicious yellow tail so prized by an epicure. Louisiana has a larger yield of terrapin than is found in any other state and the supply of crabs, both hard and soft shelled, is becoming increasingly valuable. Alligator hides form one of the products included in the fisheries of Louisiana. The length of these hides is decreasing noticeably. A large proportion of those taken recently measure three feet or less, whereas the taking of any that small was unusual a few years ago. An alligator hide six feet long is a rarity now although that used to be only an average length.

Considering the length of the Texas coast line, the fisheries of that state are as yet comparatively small. The red snapper industry presents the most interesting features and these fishing grounds are principally located around Galveston. The yield of green turtle also is increasing upon the Texas coast and under the direction of the State Fish commission a keen interest is being taken in developing all the fishing interests of the state.

Tomorrow: THE FISH INDUSTRY. VI. On the Pacific Coast.

VISIBLE GRAIN SUPPLY

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The visible supply of grain in the United States Saturday, November 23, as compiled by the New York Produce exchange, was as follows:

REDUCE MINE FATALITIES FOR FIRST EIGHT MONTHS

DENVER, Nov. 26.—A human life was lost in Colorado's mines for every 112,000 tons of coal mined last year. A penalty of 91 lives was paid for the 10,167,383 tons of coal produced by the mines in 1911.

In the first eight months of 1912 practically the same ratio held good, for 64 men met death in the industry of coal mining in this state up to September 1, 1912.

Both years show a great reduction in the lives lost from 1910, however, for in that year terrible disasters in the Trinidad and Louisville fields brought the total of miners' deaths up to 323, or one for each 37,000 tons of coal produced. This was the highest average of deaths in comparison with tonnage in the nation in that year—1910.

It was partly on account of this disastrous showing that the federal bureau of mines was impelled to send two of its mine safety cars to Colorado. Every effort has been made by the government to improve conditions and discipline in Colorado's coal mines.

At a recent meeting of 150 coal operators from Colorado and adjoining states, held in the capitol in this city, an organization was perfected purely for furthering the safety of the men in the mines.

Valuable ideas were interchanged and as a result the organization has been made permanent and safety devices of all kinds will be installed and a regular system of discipline of the men will be inaugurated.

COLORADO RAILROADS QUIT ISSUING PASSES

DENVER, Nov. 26.—The Denver & Rio Grande and Colorado & Southern railroads today discontinued the issuance of passes as a result of the action of the federal grand jury in Pueblo last week in declaring that the issuance of intrastate passes to interstate shippers is in violation of the interstate commerce laws. It was stated that officials of the local companies had decided not to await the outcome of the federal cases but to evidence their intentions to obey the law by putting in force the same rules regarding the issuance of transportation that govern interstate business. These rules limit the granting of passes to railroad officials, employes and their families, inmates of hospitals and charitable institutions.

"READY-TO-WORK" FARMS SUGGESTED IN WYOMING

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 26.—"Ready-to-work" farms for homeseekers may be provided by Wyoming if a recommendation, made by Immigration Commissioner Roy Schenck, is approved by the state legislature which meets in January. Schenck's plan is to utilize state land and state water, the commonwealth building the necessary irrigation canals and on each 40 to 80 acres erecting houses, barns and fences and driving wells, each place to be sold to homeseekers at a reasonable margin above actual cost.

LONDON WOOL

LONDON, Nov. 26.—A large number of buyers attended the wool auction today. The moderate selection offered met with spirited bidding, and owing to the smallness of the supply, prices sold 5 to 10 per cent higher. American buyers bought a few light merinos.

The offerings total [illegible] bales.

Societies and Clubs

Invention—the transition from hand tools to machinery—is responsible for the concentration of wealth in the last half century, according to arguments advanced at a meeting of the Woman's auxiliary of the Socialists, held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Johnson, 1602 North Royer street. They prescribe as a remedy the equitable distribution of natural resources, and the allotment to each man just what he produces.

A meeting of the Westminster Guild of the First Presbyterian church will be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Watson, 1920 North Nevada avenue.

At the regular meeting this evening Colorado Springs camp No. 7226, M. W. A., will take a final vote on the question of putting Sunshine camp to the big camp. A large representation of members is desired, as a two-thirds vote is required to carry the proposition.

"Systematic Giving" will be the subject at a meeting of the East Side W. C. T. U. at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Cooper in Roswell. Mrs. Hugh Shillady will be in charge.

On account of Thanksgiving, the usual meeting of Pikes Peak chapter of the American Woman's League and Republic will be omitted this week.

The R. P. L. S. Five Hundred club will meet this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock with Mrs. Merle Gilbert, 111 North Prospect.

There will be a full dress rehearsal, with orchestra, of the entire cast for "The Isle of Dreams" tomorrow morning, November 28, at the Opera house.

OUT-OF-TOWN ORDERS GIVEN PROMPT ATTENTION

OWEN & HUGHES.

The Crescent Market
135 E. Huerfano St.

Our business has increased so rapidly during the last few months, that I find myself unable to carry the volume of business on my books.

Therefore, beginning Monday, December 2nd, I will begin a strictly cash business.

This will enable me to buy and sell for cash and I will not be undersold.

It is a well-known fact that the credit merchant cannot compete with the cash merchant, as the credit man is absolutely sure to lose some accounts—he must therefore charge a little more for his goods—thereby forcing the prompt-pay customer to pay the bills of the never-pay customers.

I wish to thank my many credit customers who have been prompt in paying their bills and assure them that I will in future be better able to furnish them first-class meats at the lowest possible prices, thus making it an object to them to trade at a strictly cash market.

Come to the Crescent Market for your Thanksgiving meats as I have a full line of fancy Turkeys, Geese, Ducks, Chickens, Stock Fish, Oysters, Blue Points, Lobsters, Bull Heads, Clams, Black Bass, Veal, Pork, Mutton and Beef, and at the right prices.
